

Miss Oregon Visits U.S. Exhibit

"Miss Oregon", Barbara Johnson of Portland, "zooms" a baby fighting plane to a speedy landing on the deck of a miniature airplane carrier in the National Defense Exhibit at the Federal Building on Treasure Island while Sandra Lindberg, popular San Francisco actress looks on. San Francisco and the Golden Gate International Exposition are hosts to 43,000 sailors of the U. S. Fleet during their two week visit in the Bay Area.

Secretary of the Interior Ickes is still lobbying to have control of Bonneville power. He complains that while the administrator is responsible to the secretary, still the administrator is a free agent and does what he wants. Ickes is asking congress to change the Bonneville act and make the administrator take orders from the secretary. Implying that Bonneville has been poorly administered, Ickes says that in the interest of good management there should be more closely knit administration relations between the project and the department of the interior.

Baseball is celebrating its 100th birthday and remains tops of American games. Only one foreign nation has taken to the sport and in a big way—Japan. It's a common occurrence for a college game to attract a crowd of 50,000 people. Sand lot games are popular with the kids in every town.

San Francisco fair has been such a financial flop the management will ask congress for an appropriation of $600,000. When an emergency occurs, such as the death of Secretary of the Navy Swanson, the operator at the White House switchboard connects all press associations and news bureaus and when all are on the line Steve Early, presidential secretary, states the information. One statement reaches the entire news corps. Elliott Roosevelt, who has been boosting Jack Garner for president in 1940, invited listeners to his broadcast to write him their views on a third term. He says 70 per cent of the letters are for Papa.

One of the reasons Archibald MacLeish was confirmed as the new librarian of congress (librarians everywhere objected to him; he was called a "red"), was because of wire-pulling by the chief of the archives. Price MacLeish will pay for the support will be the surrender of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. These documents (viewed by thousands daily), are in the library of congress. For years the archives bureau has endeavored to have the relics released by the library and placed in a marble-gold shrine built especially for them. Just a little inside politics with the Constitution and Declaration as the pay-off. For a century these documents knocked around in dusty drawers and their exist-a high hourly scale and work intermittently. He visioned steady employment the year around at wages less than the union rates rather than a smaller and uncertain annual income at the scale. When the non-federal public works program was in the making, Harold Ickes expressed the same idea and made tentative proposals to that effect but the unions strenuously objected.

It is no mere coincidence that while skilled workers on WPA are protesting, the anti-trust division of department of justice is investigating to discover why building construction is in a slump because of high prices. If this is a fact and the department of justice can bust up the agreement, administration believes construction will boom and skilled craftsmen need not depend on WPA.

Arguments on the best methods to keep America free from entanglements in the event of foreign wars promise to consume senate time for a month, at least. President Roosevelt believes America should sell munitions to any country that can pay cash and transport the materials. He contends such a provision would scare Hit and Muss as it would enable Great Britain and France to obtain all the supplies they require, and such policy would mean peace in Europe.

More than one-third of the senate opposes the President's theory; believe neutrality is best assured by a mandatory embargo on munitions. These senators argue prohibition of arms to belligerents will save America from becoming involved. Such is the contention threatening to result in a long and tiresome debate. In the mandatory group are Oregon's McNary and Holman; Washington's Bone; Idaho's Borah and Clark; California's Hiram Johnson, Shar-
