LAST-INNING WALKS DONATE GAME TO PASS

THE DODGERS, city softball entrants in the district playoffs in Grants Pass, Monday night dropped their best game of the season when they were downed by Grants Pass Cave Shop in the first round of play by a 6 to 5 score.

The Dodgers scored their runs in the first two innings when four hits and five Grants Pass errors sent Hess and Murphy home twice and Leever once. Kenny Harris, Dodgers' starting pitcher, threw no-hit ball until the fifth frame when Howerton hit a triple but died on base. In the sixth, however, Harris tired and three walks, a fielder's choice and a single accounted for a run.

The seventh inning was too much for Harris, however, when the crowd yelled him out of the box and Ashland out of the ball game. Harris, after allowing a hit to the first man up, walked the next two and was benched by Manager Hess, who called in left-handed Charlie Warren for relief mound work. Warren was vulnerable to the crowd also and pitched nine straight balls to force two runs across the plate. Then Leonard sent a long fly to right field where Barksdale and Coleman almost collided on the catch, Barksdale dropping the easy out. Coleman's wild throw to third tied up the ball game at 5-5 and Whipple then singled to score Clark and end the battle.

Short score: R H E
 Dodgers 5 8 3
 Grants Pass 6 4 6
 Batteries: Harris and C. Warren to Baughman and L. Warren; Leonard to Smith.

Medco, Medford's entry won a close 5 to 4 game from Weyerhaeuser of Klamath Falls in the second game, the two winners meeting again Tuesday night in the final round with Grants Pass taking a sloppy game 11-10 and the southern Oregon title.

Dodgers Swamp Elks In City Championship Tilt Here Friday Eve

The biggest upset of the current softball season occurred at the high school field Friday night when the Dodgers, first-half champions, and the Elks, second-half winners, went four innings before the game was called and the Dodgers had won the city championship by a 25 to 2 score.

The Dodgers went to bat first and sent three runs across the platter. Bill Tallis, Elks pitcher, slid into third base in their half of the first and x-ray pictures taken later showed he had dislocated a kneecap and pulled a ligament. Tallis continued in the box, however, until the third when he collapsed while making a delivery and was replaced by Favero, regular first sacker. The gritty chucker handled first base until the fourth when he was replaced by Harry Morris, manager.

Harris did an excellent job in the box for the winners, allowing but four hits and two runs, all of which came in the third frame.

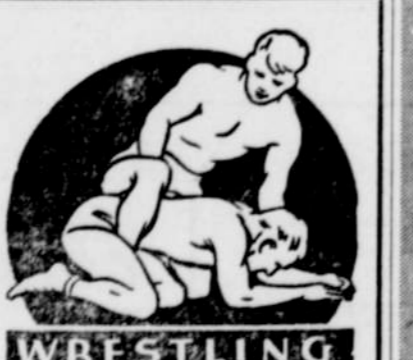

Parker Hess hit the longest drive of the game, a home run over the center field fence.

Short score: R H E
 Dodgers 16 25 1
 Elks 2 2 12
 Batteries: Harris to L. Warren; Tallis and Favero to Newton.

The Miner Press and Pine Box nines waded through their preliminary game in cheerful mood and the Pressmen took home the bacon by a 15 to 3 score. The game had no bearing on league standings but both teams played heads-up ball. The Printers scored 11 runs in their first time at the plate on the season's most sustained barrage of long hits and were never threatened.

Short score: R H E
 Miner Press 15 9 1
 Pine Box 3 2 7
 Batteries: O'Toole to Coleman; Jandreau, Woodward and King to Schonacker.

Harry Olson of Yreka was a business visitor Tuesday.

DiSordi Wins Final Game from G-P 2-1 In Thrilling Battle

Frank (Nig) DiSordi turned in one of his best games of the season when he allowed Grants Pass Merchants but three hits to win the Ashland-Talent's final game of the season by a 2 to 1 score.

Steve Crippen, hurling for Grants Pass, allowed the visitors three hits. In the eighth the Merchants were leading 1 to 0 on a run gained by an error on Porterfield and Skeeters. With two away in the eighth, Schopf got an infield hit, Leavehs walked when hit by the pitcher, Porterfield sacrificed the pair to second and third and both scored on Hampel's single.

Short score: R H E
 Ashland-Talent 2 3 3
 Grants Pass 1 3 3
 Batteries: DiSordi to Skeeters; Crippen to Woods.

HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS
 BY I TOLD YOU SO

THE Ashland-Talent baseball team ended the season last Sunday by distinguishing itself at Grants Pass, where the Merchants bit the diamond 2 to 1. Frank DiSordi and Steve Crippen blazed away in classic pitching battles that yielded but three singles each. The game was a fine closing tribute to Charlie Skeeters, popular pilot who brought the boys through a pleasant and increasingly successful season.

But speaking of baseball, the Klamath Falls Red Sox pulled the bushiest prank yet seen in these parts. Playing at Hill last Sunday, the Northern California league leaders were lagging 5 to 1 and were plenty worried. Hill, with but one victory all season, was seriously threatening the visiting potato diggers and Something Had To Be Done. So a Klamath dough-brain whipped out a tape-line, called time and proceeded to measure every base on the Hill diamond.

Jeers and cat-calls hurled at the stalling Red Sox were pointed and well deserved. The dopes were trying to big-league Hill out of the game but were somewhat deflated while ribboning the last of the bags.

And were we proud of Henry DeCereck's baseball geometry? Every base on the hill was in line right down to the inch. The Link river smarties, after pulling the tape-measure gage, looked smaller than a Scotchman's free-will offering.

Only regret was that an error on second base later gave the Red Sox the game, 10-6, but not until after several of the Hill players had distinguished themselves. Ray Coleman, softball catcher and left fielder in the Sunday games, demonstrated his arm by pegging the ball from deep left up the hill to home plate, grooving the target. Gordon Alphonse, in center field, also threw out a runner at first. And Pitcher Walt Foster did all any pitcher could to win the game, looking better than Red Sox' Clyde Carlstrom.

Arms, in Hill, are used for something besides patting themselves on the back.

Heroes of the Softball Season: KAREL NIMS, who Friday night came down out of the grandstand when Pitcher Bill Tallis injured a knee to volunteer x-rays as his contribution toward the games he had enjoyed all season. The pics were needed and Bill will be wrestling with crutches for a few days yet but will be good as new soon.

HOWARD WILEY, for his patient and accurate scoring and league management. KENNY HARRIS and CHARLIE WARREN, who were outnumbered by the grandstand at Grants Pass in the district playoffs. PILOT PARKER HESS who put the best tourney team onto the diamond—

Chick-Marine Impact Due at Armory Next Monday As Feature

Cowboy Dude Chick will be up against tough stuff at the Medford armory next Monday night, Aug. 21, when he faces Sgt. Bob Kennaston of Gold Hill in the top main event. Both Kennaston and Chick are former junior heavy-weight wrestling champions, Kennaston having won the belt from the former cowboy some time ago in a wild go in Hollywood. The pair met recently in Klamath Falls with Kennaston going literally crazy in giving Chick a terrific beating after knocking the referee cold. No friendship exists between the pair and both will be out for the win.
