

MAT WARS END HOLIDAY TRUCE

The 1940 wrestling season will get under way in the Medford armory Monday night, Jan. 8, when Promoter Mack Lillard presents ladies' night and three outstanding matches which will be headed by the return of Prince Siliki Mehalikis, the Arabian nobleman, who tangles with Cowboy Dude Chick, former world champion, in the top main event of one hour or the best two out of three falls.

Mehalikis has been in the east, principally New York, for the last three years and has been quite successful at short-story writing. He is the man who gave high diving exhibitions at Twin Plunges during the July 4 celebration here three years ago.

King Kong Clayton, the classy Negro from Alabama, has consented to remain in Medford for a few more matches and will mix with Polish Joe Smolinski, the rugged roughneck, in the middle bout which will be for six 10-minute rounds or the best two out of three falls. Smolinski has been using his "alley" tactics on fellow opponents elsewhere for quite some time and is anxious to get at the Negro.

Bob Montgomery, the jumping bean from Alabama, returns after a long sojourn in another section of the nation, to meet a newcomer to Medford, "Zim" Zimovich of Finland, in the opener, which will be over the same distance as the middle encounter. Zimovich is a 200-pound scientific grappler. This match will get under way at 8 p. m.

aided education in Oregon and Washington substantially. In Oregon it has had 136 school projects, making loans of $1,405,050 and giving grants of $5,203,504. In Washington there were 166 projects with loans of $435,166 and grants of $7,030,870.

"Use" taxes, such as Washington state collects from persons who buy outside the state to avoid the sales tax, will be cited as one of the barriers between states in the general investigation of this subject. Eighteen states have "use" taxes. Other barriers to be probed are the quarantine stations set up by California on all roads leading into that state; tobacco taxes (in 20 states) which are resulting in bootlegging tobacco; the Wildlife division in the national park service (Crater Lake, Rainier, Olympic) have been transferred to the biological survey, the organization known to every sportsman, farmer and stockman. Chief of the survey is Ira Gabrielson, formerly in the field in Oregon and Washington.

Offered for the Congressional Record shortly will be a list of scores of items which have been placed on the embargo list by Britain and France, although they are in the reciprocal trade agreements between the United States and those nations. Included will be such Pacific northwest products as apples, pears, prunes, wool, salmon. A British buying commission now is in the national capital arranging for using American vessels (changing registry to British Columbia) to transport several million feet of lumber to England. The lumber is to be supplied by British Columbia mills.

Latest discovery by the department of agriculture scientists is a spray which will prevent apples from dropping before harvest. They claim that the fruit acquires a finer flavor from the spray.
