CLARK OUGHT TO KNOW!
Quoting Len Hall in Southern Oregon Miner:
"While standing at a bar in Paris the American ambassador to France saw a dud bomb land within a few feet of him. It may be sort of old-fashioned, but personally we'd prefer to see snakes."
But of course, snakes are something with which Brother Hall is familiar.—Clark Wood in Weston Leader.

Thespians Plead For Large Basket to Hide Trapped Wife Wooer

WANTED: One part-time job and a large wicker basket, sufficiently deep to hide a man. Sort of an odd combination but two urgent items needed by the Shakespearean players here.

Theo J. Norby, head of the association's employment committee said this week that part-time employment for one of the actors would be greatly appreciated. He urged co-operation on the part of civic-minded business men and merchants and suggested they contact Director William David Cottrell.

In the meantime, Lois M. Bowmer, head of the art and property departments, has revealed a need for a wicker basket, large enough to hide a man. One of the scenes in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" calls for a jealous husband to return home at precisely the wrong moment. The basket . . . well, you want to see the poor visitor get away, don't you?
Or do you?

Boy Scouts Canvass City for Census Gaps

Chamber of Commerce Pres. C. M. Litwiler announced early this week that the Ashland Boy Scouts will work on a house-to-house canvass of the city for the purpose of finding any Ashlanders who were overlooked by the official enumerator.

The older boys of the organization will list names of the persons skipped and later will be followed up by an official enumerator selected by the chamber who will have regulation blanks to be filled out.

The competition idea will be carried on between the Scouts of the two Ashland troops and each boy will be paid for each person he finds uncounted.

Bible Conference To Be Held, Lake Woods

An interdenominational Bible conference will be held at the Boy Scout camp at Lake o' the Woods during the week of June 24 to 29, inclusive. Reservation may be made through the Rev. C. R. Luther of Central Point, conference dean.

Scheduled speakers include the Rev. Oscar Lowry, the Rev. J. Achen Smith of Salem and the Rev. Hugh P. Andrews of Washington.

There will be a small charge for meals and accommodations. Persons attending must provide their own bedding.

YOUNG BICYCLIST HURT BY CRASH INTO AUTO

Rollie Berry, 13, suffered a fractured collarbone Sunday morning when he rode his bicycle out of an alley on Van Ness avenue and crashed into the side of a car driven by Wilma Nutter.

Parents of the boy, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Berry of 351 North Main street, absolved Miss Nutter of blame in the accident. The bicycle was undamaged and only small repairs were necessary on the car.
