MAJOR ERROR

"Ah," said a seedy-looking individual who got into conversation in a railway carriage.

"I've seen some changes. I was once a doctor with a large practice, but owing to one little slip my patients began to leave me."

"What was the slip?"

"In filling in a death certificate I absent-mindedly signed my name in the space headed 'Cause of Death.'"

Largest Religious Statue

The largest religious statue in the world is the statue of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart which has recently been dedicated at Mas Rillier, near Lyons, France. The statue weighs 440 tons and depicts the virgin clasping the infant Jesus to her breast. The monument has a small chapel built in the base and an inside staircase leads to an observation platform constructed inside the head. The total height is 107 feet and the height including the foundation is 174 feet.

Waterspout Formation

Waterspouts at sea occur when opposite winds of different temperatures meet in the upper atmosphere, whereby a greater amount of vapor is condensed into a thick black cloud, to which a vertical motion is given. A partial vacuum is created in the center, which draws up the water in its vortex. When the waterspout has played itself out, it commences to disappear at the base, gradually traveling upward.

England's Romantic Rocks

Between the Scilly islands and Land's End is a cluster of rocks known as the Seven Stones, but called "the City" by people on the mainland. They represent all that is left of Lyonesse, the Arthurian land of Tristan, which finally went to the bottom of the sea in the great storm of A. D. 1092.

Robinson Crusoe

The little Scottish village of Largo entertains hundreds of visitors every year who come to see where Alexander Selkirk, the prototype of Defoe's Robinson Crusoe, was born. He has a statue near the harbor, and visitors may stay at the Crusoe hotel.
