Lincoln School

- Room 7 saw the picture "Mesa Verde National Park" Monday, Sept. 30. It was a very interesting picture, and the boys and girls enjoyed it.
- On Tuesday, Oct. 1, the violin class began practicing in the library of the Lincoln school. Miss Landon is the teacher. There are seven in the sixth grade who are taking lessons.
- The sixth grade science class is studying the solar system. It is made up of the sun and nine planets. They drew pictures to describe the forming of the planets. They are making an outline for their science booklets. The children all like this study.
- Room 6 has six new pupils from room 5. Their names are Maxine Riley, Beverly Wycoff, Harry Kanasto, Gerald Randles, Rena Russell and Roger Hall. Elmer Blunck from the Talent schools entered the same class on Monday, Sept. 30.
- Room 6 has made a library in one of the little rooms. They made chairs, corner shelves and a table. In the shelves they are going to put different kinds of trinkets and exhibits.
- The boys and girls of the fourth grade art class are making designs for pillows, mural paintings, a science table and science shelves. It will be lots of fun for them to improve the library.
- The fourth grade children of room 5 were glad to have Miss Lucie Landon teach music on Monday, Sept. 30. They also were pleased to have Mr. Wilda teach them art for the first time on the same day.
- Barbara Lee Dotson, Venita Roberson and John Payne of the fourth grade took their first violin lessons from Miss Lucie Landon on Tuesday, Oct. 1.
- Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pieper made a business trip to Medford early in the week.

Let Him Sleep in Safety!

Tiny tots cannot protect themselves, and it is comforting to parents to know that electricity is safe and dependable. For water heating and cooking, electricity eliminates the dangers of flames or fumes. For protecting baby's foods, nothing is as dependable as electric refrigeration, and at night handily-placed lights are indispensable. Electricity plays an important part in the rearing of baby—and does it with a maximum of safety! Electricity COSTS LESS in Ashland!
