Neglect of Accident Hazards Claims 32,000 Lives Annually in U. S. Homes

Falls and Burns Leading Causes, Red Cross Warns in Safety Appeal

Washington, D. C.—The American Home—traditionally the symbol of security and safety—rivals the highway as the scene of the nation's greatest number of accident fatalities.

In a statement issued here by the Home and Farm Accident Prevention Service of the American Red Cross, it was pointed out that accidents in the home, including falls, burns and other common mishaps, claimed 32,000 lives last year—only 600 less than the number of motor vehicle deaths. Farm accidents accounted for an additional 4,200 deaths.

Statistics showed that home deaths last year increased 500 over the preceding year and farm accidents increased 300.

In addition to a mounting death toll, home and farm accidents last year caused upwards of 4,700,000 injuries which resulted in economic losses running into millions of dollars.

To reduce the number of rural and urban accidents in and about the home, the American Red Cross in 1935 inaugurated its accident prevention program as a parallel project with the First Aid and Life Saving Services. This year, 9,000,000 "check lists" describing accident hazards and urging their removal will be distributed throughout the country.

Approximately 2,000 Red Cross chapters have undertaken a program to acquaint householders in their vicinities with accident hazards in the home and on the farm. Chapters will be aided by the Junior Red Cross and the schools in distributing the "check lists."

The program will stress the vital need for removing accident hazards causing falls, as this type of accident resulted in more than half of last year's home accident fatalities. Burns and explosions caused the next heaviest loss of life.

Accident prevention is one of seven services conducted day-to-day by the American Red Cross in its tireless campaign against accidental death and suffering arising from disaster and other causes of emergency nature. These services are supported solely by members who join each year during Roll Call, November 11-30.

Lincoln School

On Tuesday, Oct. 22, the fourth grade members of the Lincoln school garden club helped Miss O'Brien transplant plants and bulbs. Some of the boys made a temporary fence for part of the garden.

Miss Young gave the pupils of room 7 and 8 a very interesting talk on alcohol. She showed the children by experiments how alcohol is both good and bad. The children saw how injurious alcohol is to people who drink it.

Room 6 is making a mural to decorate the room. In the art class, taught by Mr. Wilda, the boys and girls drew patterns of animals. The mural will be made in spatter work using these patterns. The children of room 7 wrote letters to Connie Powell, one of their classmates who is ill. They are glad that she will soon be back to school.

The sixth grade pupils were sorry to lose their student teacher, Mr. Carothers, who taught arithmetic. He went to Washington to work for awhile.

The second grade is building a kitchen.
