NEWS FROM

Lincoln School By SCHOOL STUDENTS

On Thursday, Feb. 6, the school nurse, Miss Patricia Geiser, told the children of room 6 about first aid. The class learned how to bandage all kinds of cuts and to put splints onto a finger. They learned that the triangular bandage is very useful. The children used each other as patients. It was a very interesting lesson.

Wednesday, Feb. 5, the sixth grade held a room meeting. An election was held. The new president is Mary Atkins; vice president, Maryetta Baughman, and secretary is Gary Christlieb. The class decided to have a valentine box and a party.

Last Wednesday afternoon the pupils of the sixth grade were invited by the second grade to a program. They told about their trip to the post office. It was a very interesting program.

The fourth grade made some health posters. Some of the children made parts of teeth and some made the different kinds of vegetables we eat. Miss Margaret Strain and Miss Huldah Rose are teachers for health.

Miss Huldah Rose, a student teacher of the fourth grade, had an operation for removal of her appendix on Friday, Feb. 7. The children will be very glad when Miss Rose can be back with them.

On Monday, Feb. 10, the boys and girls of room 6 made some valentine verses. They are very good. The poems will be shown down in the hall. The children wrote the poems on wall paper to make them look prettier.

Miss Shirley Willard, a student teacher of Lincoln school room 6, has been absent for two days because of illness.

Lincoln school has a new pupil in the fifth grade. His name is J. Wray Hodgen from the Washington school.

The second grade has a lovely valentine box. The children have valentines in it.

The second grade has a new postman, Charles Culmer.

Washington School By SCHOOL STUDENTS

Room 5 Room 6 visited the public library this morning. Miss Mason showed us how to use reference books. We brought each several books about New England.

The sixth grade presented "Abe's Cupboard" for Room 5 Wednesday afternoon. The characters were Jerry Kerr as Abe Lincoln and Marlys Wilcox as Nancy Hanks.

Room 5 held its regular business meeting Tuesday, Feb. 11.

The dictionary race was won by Robert Fowler and Thelma Winkelman.

The Chickagami Camp Fire girls sang "The Call of the Fire." Roger Flaharty's row won the letter race.

Marlys Wilcox, president. The fifth grade presented "The Lincoln Cabin" Wednesday afternoon. Virginia Clary was Nancy Hanks and Melvin Morgan was Abraham Lincoln. We made red, white and blue pins for our program. Everyone sang "I Am an American."

Virginia Clary brought us a calla lily which was given to her by a friend. It came all the way from Crescent City, Calif.

Several students from Washington school attended the Rubinoff concert in Medford Wednesday afternoon.

Room 4 Several people are absent in the fourth grade with measles or chickenpox.

Room 4 has made a valentine box and will have to make another because there have been so many put in. It is red and white with large red hearts on each side.

Room 5 is making posters for Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays. We like doing this very much.

Room 3 We have a pretty valentine box. It is in the shape of a house and is covered with red and white crepe paper. We already have many valentines in the box.

We have many new interesting pictures and toys which have been added to our collection for transportation.

Edward Roske is a new pupil in Room 3. He entered from Lincoln school. We are glad to have him.

Bonnie Frohreich was one of a small group who played their violins at the Civic club house Wednesday afternoon. It was the combined Parent-Teacher associations of Ashland. We are very happy to have Bonnie in our room.

The second grade has a new pupil. Ardith Brophy came here from Eagle Point. The girls and boys are very glad to have another girl in this grade.

The second grade boys built a post office from orange crates. There are 36 post office boxes which are enough and one extra. The children are mailing valentines to their friends.

Room 1 Aleta Luchterhand and Carolyn Keits have birthdays to celebrate this week.

WATER PROSPECTS BRIGHT

Summer water supply prospects in Oregon are much better than at this time last year and better than for the past three years in most parts of the state, according to a forecast just received by the Oregon State college experiment station. Measurements from 87 courses in Oregon showed that for the most part the snow water content is greater than a year ago.

● Arthur Icenhower from Fort Lewis has been visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Icenhower. He recently underwent a major operation from which he is recovering.
