NEWS FROM

Lincoln School

By SCHOOL STUDENTS
 The first grade children took care of a middle-sized snapping turtle for Dr. Wells. They kept him in a tub with water in it. They fed the turtle worms every school day.
 Lloyd James Haynie had a birthday. He was seven years old. His big brother got him some new shoes. A friend of his gave him some marbles and a toy war truck.
 Miss Virginia Hales came to tell the fourth grade about the Netherlands Tuesday, April 8. She brought some pretty pottery vases which she bought when she was in Holland several years ago. The vases had pretty lady slippers in them. Her talk was very interesting and the boys and girls asked her many questions. She said Netherlands is one of the cleanest countries in the world. Anna Louise Waybrant thanked Miss Hales for telling the class about the Netherlands.
 Tuesday, April 8, Richard Adams came to the fourth grade room. He came from Washington school. The girls and boys like him very much and hope he will like Lincoln school.
 In the science class, room six has made a rock collection. They are studying how rocks were formed, how they were changed to soil and how they got their shape. It is a very interesting study. Mr. Coffin is the teacher.
 Monday, April 7, the girls of room eight challenged the girls of room six in a game of baseball. Mary Atkins refereed the game. The score was 5 to 4 in favor of room six.
 The Camp Fire girls heard a talk given by the secretary of the organization about the many different things that they could make. She showed them many things that had been made.
 Room seven is making plaster paris plaques of the state flowers. These plaques will be painted and shellacked. They studied about the state flowers in science class.
 Room seven is giving the children of room two a surprise Easter party. They will hide baskets of eggs for each one. The one who finds his basket first will receive a gold egg and the one who finds the most eggs will receive a silver egg.
 Charlene Roberson, Glen De Vore, Lois Rowton and George Fullerton of room eight are absent because of illness. Mary Louise Hahn went to Scappoose, Ore., to visit her father.
