J'VILLE WINS OVER AHS NINE

Jacksonville's Redskins evened the score for a previous beating when they trimmed the Ashland high Grizzlies baseball team 8-4 at Jacksonville Monday. Ashland won the other contest 7-4.

Errors and bad first and fifth innings contributed to Ashland's defeat, along with an injury suffered by the hard-hitting catcher, Joe Peterson, in the first frame. McGinty, third baseman for the Indians, came home under a long fly and slid into Peterson, who was unable to continue the game.

Jandreau, Ashland pitcher, connected with the longest hit of the day, a triple; Russ Hawk hit a pair of doubles and Bud Provost slugged a two-base hit.

New Testing Device Installed By Caton

Clyde N. Caton reports the installation of a new and highly accurate machine known as the Weaver Counterbalancer for wheels. In explaining the need for the new equipment, Caton stated that the high rates of speed maintained on highways today require perfectly balanced wheels for smooth driving. A wheel slightly out of balance causes vibration and "shimmy" which is dangerous and may cause an accident.

The new counterbalancer registers the least vibration in each wheel, enabling the operator to bring the wheels in accurate static and dynamic balance and thus eliminating one of the hazards of driving.

The public has been invited to stop at the garage for a free wheel test.

Forest Fire Fight Takes Large Sum

Coincident with the adoption of a comprehensive forestry program by the Oregon legislature, comes publication of the results of a study by Dr. W. H. Dreeson, agricultural economist at Oregon State college, entitled "Financing Fire Protection for Timber Lands Under Oregon Laws." Some of Dr. Dreeson's findings, made available prior to publication, are reflected in the new legislation.

This experiment station bulletin, No. 384, shows that a total of $470,249.93 was collected in 1938 for fire protection purposes in Oregon. This fund was collected from "tax roll" lands, from members of protective associations, and state, federal and county contributions.

Former Oregon laws required that all owners of timber lands should provide adequate protection against fire, while the recent bills just passed correct some of the weaknesses in the former laws, in the opinion of state and college forest officials.
