NEWS FROM

Lincoln School

By SCHOOL PUPILS

Roy and Ray Patterson entered the fourth grade of Lincoln school Monday, Sept. 29. They came from southern California to live in the Siskiyou mountains. September 25 the boys of room eight challenged the boys of room six. They all played very well and the game was very interesting. Room eight made one touchdown and field goal. The score was seven to nothing.

Eugene Ritzinger went on a trip to Agate Beach. He lived in a campground called State park. The beach was just a little way on the other side of the campground. He went through a big aquarium in Waldport. They had all kinds of ocean flowers and also most of the ocean fish. They had one he liked especially. It was called a wolf fish.

Lincoln school is having a P-TA membership drive. Room five is in charge of the contest. They made a race track with horses on it to show which room is ahead in the race. There is a painted clay horse for each room. Mr. Wilda, art teacher, helped the boys and girls make the race track. The race track is in the lower hall of Lincoln school.

Room six is making a library chart to keep a record of the library books they read. The chart will have new pictures for each month.

HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS

By I TOLD YOU SO

If the New York boxing commission pays any attention to this column, which they don't, this department would like to make a suggestion that they give Referee Arthur Donovan a rest, a permanent one. From this corner, it looks like the only way any challenger will defeat Champion Joe Louis is with an axe in one hand and a couple of shotguns in the other, one for Donovan.

His decision in stopping the Nova-Louis fight the other night in the sixth has not only drawn criticism from this author but from many others throughout the country. It seems Donovan was the only one to know the farce had been called to a halt until the rest period was half over. The boy with the placard to designate the seventh round was in the ring and Dr. Walker of the commission also was in there to examine Nova to see if he was fit to continue when Donovan announced it was all over.

Nova had been floored only once and had a cut over his eye but we feel he was entitled to the minute and a half rest and a chance to come back for another round.

The football prognostications for last week resulted in seven correct and three wrong for a season average of .647. This week's guesses:

Washington over Oregon State at Portland.

California over Washington State at Pullman.

Oregon over Idaho at Eugene.

Stanford over UCLA at Palo Alto.

Ohio State over Southern California at Los Angeles.

Santa Clara over Loyola at San Francisco.

Nebraska over Iowa State at Ames, Ia.

Medford over Grants Pass at Grants Pass.

Klamath Falls over Dunsuir at Klamath Falls.

Ashland over Coquille at Coquille.

All that is human must retrograde if it does not advance.—Gibson.

GRIZZLIES IN 2ND 20-0 VICTORY

The Ashland Grizzlies opened the 1941 southern Oregon high school football conference by taking a 20-0 win over the Grants Pass Cavemen on the local field Friday night. It was the second 20 to 0 victory for the Grizzlies this season, they having defeated Lakeview by the same score the previous Friday.

The visitors were badly out-classed in all departments as the local offense tore through the line and around end and through the air and, when Grants Pass had the ball, the Grizzly defense tightened to hold them to only one first down throughout the evening.

Prosser, Grants Pass quarterback, was taken to the hospital in the second half with a slight concussion but was able to go home later in the evening.

Medford's black Tornado trounced a heavier Corvallis team 41 to 0 at Medford and Klamath Falls made it three in a row by taking the measure of Eugene 13 to 0 at Eugene.
