HILT NEWS

- Annabelle, Audrey and Rosalie Graves entertained with a Halloween party at their home Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Guests were the girls from the intermediate and upper grade rooms at school with a few younger girls as Rosalie's special guests. Assisting Mrs. Frank Graves were Mrs. Arthur Pedersen, Mrs. Don Rosecrans, Miss Lucille Gansberg and Mrs. Homer Vincent. Each girl made her own mask and prizes were awarded for the best. Other entertainment consisted of bobbing for apples, group singing around the piano and the initiation of all present into the "Royal Order of Siam" by Miss Gansberg. For refreshments a paper bag lunch consisting of sandwiches, popcorn and candy favors was served with cider. Decorations were all in keeping with the Halloween season. Everyone enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Labor's Opportunity!

The recent statement of the President of the United States, in which he said that labor must now forego strikes in the interest of national defense, should be pondered with care by the labor leaders. The President's words, beyond doubt, reflected the opinion of the overwhelming majority of Americans.

A man who strikes today, strikes against his country's safety. A man who uses the threat of the strike unless government and industry capitulate meekly to his demands, is helping his country's enemies. The dictators must be gratified indeed when they read of recurring defense strikes in the nation which is working to become the arsenal of democracy.

This government has established elaborate arbitration machinery to protect labor against any conceivable injustice. The employers of this nation accept without question the decisions made. It is a segment of labor leadership which keeps industrial unrest going, and which holds to the "rule or ruin" principle.

Labor has its chance now to work at record-breaking wages. If it persists in striking, the American people will know what to do.

Salute To Safety Patrol!

The inauguration of the school safety patrol this past week brings to Ashland schools a valuable contribution in safety and in training.

Primary purpose of the patrol is of course the safety of school children at school crosswalks where carelessness on the part of motorists and children has provided a constant safety hazard. Judging from the activity of the patrol during its first week in action, it will do much to eliminate this hazard, for the smart military appearance of the uniformed patrol members reminds motorists of existence of the crosswalk and the children are guarded against taking risks with oncoming traffic.

As training it is particularly valuable in that it provides another opportunity for students to learn democracy by living it—an opportunity to assume responsibilities and learn to respect and observe regulations in a setup such as will confront them in adult life.

It is not the purpose of the patrol to become a nuisance by demanding the right of way at all times, but to cooperate with the motorist in avoidance of confusion at school crossings during heavy pedestrian traffic before and after school. So let's give these youthful officers of the law the respect and support they deserve.

PLYMOUTH GUILD MEETS

Mrs. C. F. McCall was hostess to the Plymouth guild of the Congregational church Wednesday of last week. Mrs. H. B. Carter conducted the business meeting. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Glenn Prescott and Mrs. Susie Alford in serving refreshments.

● Dr. C. A. Haines is in San Francisco on business.

WCTU MEETS THURSDAY

The W. C. T. U. met at the home of Mrs. J. G. Ambrose Thursday of last week. Mrs. John Poet conducted the business meeting and presented the lesson. An interesting address was given by Mrs. C. F. McCall. Mrs. Maude Marske and Mrs. Davis assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

REMEMBER WHEN

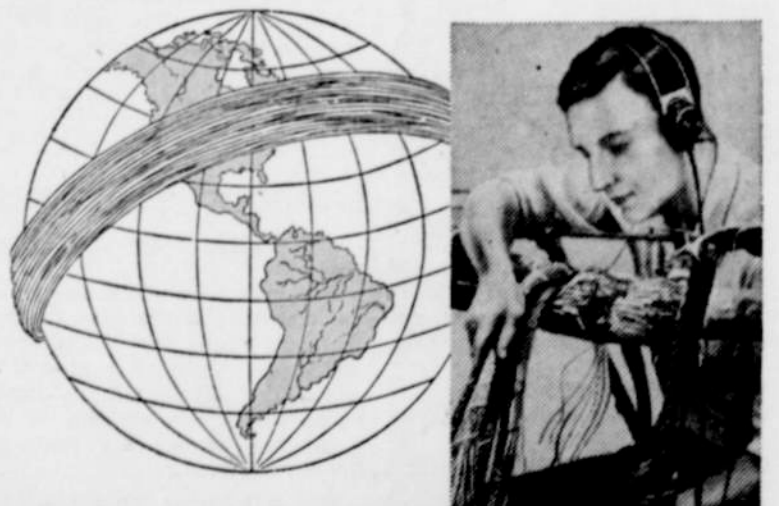

—father drove five horses on the binder and you helped shock the golden grain? It was quite a trick to quench your thirst from the heavy jug of water kept in the shade of the shocks. Those were busy days, but happy days, your childhood on the farm. Remember?

Sweet memories remain when the memorial service is flawless as conducted here.

FOR DEFENSE

Enough New Telephone Wires to go around the world 50 times

The cables which the Bell System has installed or expects to install in giving service to about 600 new or enlarged government owned or financed establishments will contain a total of more than a million and a quarter miles of telephone wire—enough to wrap around the earth 50 times.

Army and Navy centers, aviation fields, shipyards, and vastly enlarged aircraft and other manufacturing plants have created heavy new demands for telephone service.

We're doing our level best to meet these emergency needs for large-scale telephone installations.

The telephone company is "all-out for Defense"—adding to the telephone network as never before.

At the same time we're taking all steps possible to safeguard and satisfy the great and growing civilian demand for day-to-day telephone service.
