

GRIZZLIES ROUT INDIANS 32-7

Among the many things for which we were thankful this past week was a good pair of "specks" —especially when the city was so crowded with good looking school "mamas".

It seems a flimsy excuse that secrecy be maintained of actual U-boat losses to keep Germany in doubt—Amputate one of our fingers and try to keep us in the dark about it.

The land of make-believe—down around the Mediterranean where the world has been waiting a British offensive that never materialized.

THIS AND THAT

By OLD TIMER To the Editor:

Theodore Roosevelt was the first president to act as representative of the public in an industrial dispute. The occasion was the anthracite coal strike in Pennsylvania in 1902.

The miners agreed to arbitrate. But the operators were indignant at Roosevelt's "interference" in what they regarded as their private concern. After a bitter struggle, during which Teddy used the "big stick," the operators finally capitulated and the strike was soon ended.

The Greeks long ago made certain so-called music a crime against the state. In these modern days it's a pity that the yowling of hill bills and ranch boys over the radio could not be placed in the same category.

Considering the number of times the backbone of Russian resistance has been broken in Hitler dispatches, it is holding up remarkably well.

Japan certainly has gained plenty of yardage in China but the score still seems to be 0-0.

Otto J. Boss, 62-year-old Los Angeles diamond broker and appraiser, died enroute to the Community hospital here Monday morning after his right leg was amputated in a traffic accident near Ruby's Kitchen north of Siskiyou summit on the Pacific highway.

Snow and ice of southern Oregon's first wintry weather was given as the cause of the crash. Boss and Gerald Zink, of San Pedro, Calif., were standing near Boss's car at the side of the road when a northbound car driven by Mrs. Evangeline Johnson of Claremont, Calif., slid into the Boss automobile. Boss was trapped between the two cars and his leg was torn off above the knee and young Zink was knocked to the roadside. Boss was enroute to the hospital in the Litwiller ambulance when he died from shock and loss of blood.

Neither Mrs. Johnson nor her husband were hurt in the accident nor did Zink's injuries prove serious.

Boss and Zink were said to have stopped to assist Mrs. Essie Mills and her daughter Shirley of Summit City, Calif., from their car which was considerably damaged when it slid off the road into a canyon.

An inquest which was scheduled to have been held Monday night was called off after Mrs. Boss told authorities she believed the mishap was accidental.

WIN MARKS END OF GOOD SEASON

Scoring twice in the first quarter, once in the third and twice in the fourth, the Ashland Grizzlies closed a successful season with a 32-7 routing of Roseburg in the game here yesterday which highlighted Ashland's Thanksgiving celebration.

Ashland opened the game with Martin Herrin kicking off deep into Roseburg territory. The Indians made several attempts through the line, but were held for downs and forced to kick. Jandreau took the punt on his own 48 yard line and raced to the goal line to score standing up. Provost found a hole through right tackle and converted the extra point.

During the first quarter most of the game was played in Roseburg territory. Ashland made several deep thrusts but were held for downs. The Roseburg offense was unable to find any openings in the Grizzlie line and the Ashland secondary were on their toes to discourage attempted end runs.

Toward the end of the opening period, Ashland took the offensive and drove to the Roseburg 10-yard line where a pass from Jandreau to Bell was good for the second touchdown. Provost failed to make the extra point and the quarter ended with Ashland leading 13-0.

Roseburg put a scare into the Grizzlies in the second period when a tricky reverse was good for a 60 yard gain. The Indians continued to plow to the Ashland ten where they were held on downs. Ashland kicked, but the Indians were soon threatening again. They succeeded in moving the ball to the one foot line where the Ashland line held for downs. Provost kicked out of danger as the half ended with the score still 13-0.

In the second half Roseburg kicked off and four plays later Etam found a nice hole and went over for a touchdown. An attempted pass for the extra point was no good.

Later in the quarter, Jandreau took an Indian pass on the 23 yard line and moved it to the 35, but a clipping penalty placed the ball back on the nine yard line. Several plays later Jandreau was forced from the game by the recurrence of an old ankle injury.

In the first play of the fourth quarter Owen Griffith went over standing up for another Ashland tally. The try for extra point failed.

As soon as Ashland again regained possession of the ball Provost went through tackle from 20 yards out and scored. Fowler kicked the extra point.

At this point, Coach O'Neil gave Ashland a preview of next year's team by sending in the reserves. Wells scored through tackle for the Indians tally and Bert Young kicked the extra point to end the day's scoring.

The game marked the end of highschool competition for several Ashland players. Those who completed their prep competition were John Ball, end; Chet Fowler, tackle; LaMar Ormand, guard; Clyde Garrett, guard and center; Russ Hawk, center; Bob Dunn, end; Charlie Jandreau, left half; Bud Frovost, fullback; Jim Rath, end; Frank Carroll, end; Martin Herrin, tackle; and Don Warren, quarterback.
