SELBY, GREYHOUND TEAMS WIN IN LEAGUE BOWLING

The official standing of the Major League bowling teams has remained unchanged this week awaiting the outcome of the game between the Lions club and the Hilt team which was postponed Monday night. The Selby team won three straight over the Elks and the Tavern team won two and dropped one to Provost's in Monday night's competition.

Harry Travis received high single honors with a score of 232 and Max Crowson had the high series score of 560.

JUNIORS DROP LAST GAME TO GRANTS PASS

On a soggy and slippery field at Grants Pass last Friday night, the Ashland juniors suffered their only loss in a successful football season that saw them tie Medford for the Southern Oregon Junior High conference title. The Grants Pass Frosh, previously beaten by Ashland 19 to 6, evened the score by taking the measure of the local juniors 7 to 0.

Jamie Moseley and Mark Marquess suffered injuries which greatly hampered Al Simpson's eleven.

FARMS ELECTRIFIED

Oregon has made such rapid advances in farm electrification that it has jumped from 14th to ninth rank in the nation since 1934, according to figures released by the rural electrification administration. Only 28 percent of Oregon farms were electrified in 1934, while today 72 percent of the farms are receiving the advantages of rural electrification. The national percentage of electrified farms rose from 11 to 35 percent in the same period.

OREN HASCALL COLE

Funeral services were held Monday morning for Oren Hascall Cole, with Rev. Howard G. Eddy of the Presbyterian church officiating. Services were held at the Litwiler Funeral home and interment was in the IOOF addition to Mountain View cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wells of Elkton visited several days with Mrs. Katie Haney and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Haney.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Broady visited in Salem several days the first of the week.

HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS

By I TOLD YOU SO

Another week-end like the last one and it will take a surrealist to unravel this collegiate football situation. Just who has the inside track for a New Year's day trip to Pasadena and the Rose Bowl is something else only a surrealist could determine. Every team in the Pacific Coast conference has been beaten at least twice. This makes the first year since the Rose Bowl games were started in 1916 that a coast team will have gone into the classic with two defeats.

Oregon State, present favorite, has yet to clash with Montana and Oregon, both being capable of upsetting the Beavers. Stanford, considered a cinch to repeat last year's Rose Bowl trip, meets California and could get stopped there although it doesn't look likely on paper. Washington clashes with Oregon and USC in the Huskies' only remaining games and certainly hasn't a cinch on either of these games. Washington State, the giant killer, draws a breather against Gonzaga Saturday but is scheduled to meet Texas A&M at Tacoma Dec. 6.

Some authorities are considering Washington State, but one just can't get away from their set-backs at the hands of UCLA and USC by a score of 7-6 and a 23-13 trouncing by Washington. But then if Oregon State were chosen, WSC would be peeved because they beat the Beavers. Then, too, they lost to USC at the first of the season. Stanford, on the other hand, has been stopped by OSC and WSC. Maybe they'd better send Idaho or some likely club and settle the whole thing.

The season's prognosticating finds a total of 87 games with a correct selection on 59 of them for an all-season average of 67.8. This is the final week for Hindsight's selections and a sincere effort will be made to reach an all-season high. Here they are: Washington over Oregon, Washington State over Gonzaga, Oregon State over Montana, Montana State over Idaho, Santa Clara over UCLA, Notre Dame over Southern California, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Duke over North Carolina State, Texas Christian over Rice, Navy over Princeton.

Basketball Practice Begins at Junior High

Forty-five boys have answered Coach Al Simpson's call for basketball material at the junior high and practice sessions already are under way. Simpson says he has scheduled two games with Medford, the first one to be played here Jan. 9 at the annual jamboree and the other to be played at Medford Jan. 30. Letters will be sent to Roseburg, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and probably to the reserve teams at Talent, Jacksonville and Phoenix. Simpson, however, will be unable to completely draw up a schedule until the high school and SOCE have completed their bookings.

Only two lettermen, Jay Samuelson and Dick Kerr, will return this season. Mark Marquess, who was a star on this year's football team, looks good on the maple boards. He has had previous experience with Medford. Provost, Jandreau, Wilson, Garrett, O'Hara, Quackenbush and Coulter all have two years of Ashland experience but are not lettermen. Simpson is looking forward to another successful season and is drilling his team for a conference title.

MISSION STUDY CLUB MEETS

Mrs. W. T. Brickey entertained the Pilgrim Mission Study club of the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon of last week. Mrs. H. B. Carter presided over the business meeting. Mrs. C. T. Pine led the devotions. Participating in the program were Mrs. Wilmer Hilt, Mrs. Sadie Stratton and Mrs. Lulu Van Wegen.

MARTHA GILLETTE GUILD

The Martha Gillette guild of the First Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Miss Estella Hayes Friday evening. After a buffet supper, Miss Edith Bork presided over the business meeting. Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Glenn Sanders of Medford, who told of her visit to 11 national mission stations.

Grizzlies Mire Down In Astoria Game

A sea of mud was too much for the Ashland Grizzlies and they bowed before a team more adept at playing in the muck and lost to Astoria 14 to 7 at Astoria Friday night.

The Fishermen scored in the first five minutes of the opening quarter but Ashland tied it up in the second period. In the third stanza Astoria again went ahead. The locals missed a chance to get at least a tie when a double reverse went bad in the fourth period.

Playing in a thick fog that made visibility practically nil during the second half, Medford jumped back from its unexpected loss to Ashland and stopped Salem's Vikings 26 to 13. Salem was unable to do anything with the Tornado regulars and it was not until the fourth quarter that Salem scored, against the Medford reserves. The game was the last home tilt for Medford.

Future Teachers Hold Election of Officers

The Future Teachers of America, an organization of prospective elementary teachers at the Southern Oregon College of Education, have elected officers for the coming year. The president is Nellie McLain of Ashland; vice president, Irah Farrow of Bayfield, Colo.; recording secretary, Mabel Jewett of Medford; corresponding secretary, Borgny Romtvedt of Bonanza; treasurer, Doreen DeLisle of Ashland; editor, Leola Lee of Grants Pass, and librarian, Ruth Froman of Ashland.

Ida O'Brien, supervisor of the training school and Florence Allen, supervisor of teaching in the training school, are advisers to the Future Teachers of America.
