HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS

By I TOLD YOU SO

Coming as a complete surprise to most athletic-minded citizens of Ashland, Al Simpson was announced this week as the new football coach at the high school to succeed Frank O'Neil.

If anyone doubts that a better choice could be made need only to scan Al's record at the junior high. Last football season his Mighty Mites ended up in a tie for the Southern Oregon conference championship and his basketball team, having just concluded their season, won the conference title.

Al, who went into the job at junior high three years ago with his fingers crossed and listening to townspeople saying he couldn't handle the job, came through with flying colors. Although his teams have not always been of the unbeatable calibre, he has turned out several fine athletic specimens and made good in no uncertain terms.

Along with the promotion, Simpson will also get a nice increase in salary.

Simpson will take several of his junior high athletes with him when he goes to his new job for most of his first stringers at junior high will graduate this spring.

His many friends join with this department in wishing Al continued success at his new job.

It's too bad Ashland's Grizzlies couldn't win the district basketball title but since they couldn't we think it is a good idea to get behind the Medford Tigers and cheer for them to bring as many more tournament victories to Southern Oregon as possible. But there's one thing we wish our Medford friends would remember: Ashland won the football game.

CRATERS AGAIN IN STATE LOOP

The Medford Craters will again be a member of the Oregon state baseball league, it was announced by C. H. Davis, member of the Craters' board of directors, after a meeting in Albany last week.

The Craters have chosen Dutch Lieber, popular pitcher who worked the mound for them last season, as team manager for the coming summer.

The league, as planned at the present, will be formed of Medford, Eugene, Albany, Hills Creek, Silverton and a Portland team which will play all of its games away from home. At a meeting to be held in Portland March 15 it is possible that Klamath Falls and Bend will enter.

The Bend Elks club, for several years sponsors of a baseball team, stated that due to tire shortage and possible gasoline rationing they will not sponsor a team but indicated that any interested party might obtain the franchise.

ASHLAND CHORAL CLUB ENJOYS PIE SOCIAL

Following rehearsal Monday evening, members of the Ashland Choral club repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Litwiller for a social hour. Pie, tea and coffee were served. The rehearsal was held at the Presbyterian church in preparation for a vesper service for which the group is singing.

Portland U Kills Sons' K-C Hopes

Portland University, playing on their own floor, won the Oregon Intercollegiate basketball championship last Saturday night when they downed Southern Oregon College of Education 46 to 36 in a game that was close most of the way.

The win gives Portland the right to represent Oregon in the national tournament to be held at Kansas City next week.

Crow's nest refereeing, originated by Jean Eberhart, SOCE coach, will be given a try at the national meet.

Two SOCE players were chosen on the first team. They were Bob Mulder at center and Chuck De Autremont at guard. Others making the first team were O'Toole and Carlin of Portland at forwards and Andrews, EOCE, at guard.

Listless Grizzlies Drop Final Game

Leading a listless Ashland team throughout the game, the Medford Tigers won the district four championship and the right to represent southern Oregon at the state tournament at Salem by taking a 36 to 17 win from the Grizzlies.

Saturday evening, however, Medford didn't fare so well and dropped a 40 to 22 tilt to the lowly Grants Pass Cavemen. Medford used the second stringers part of the game and the regulars could not overcome the lead a hot Caveman team piled up.

Tomorrow night the Oregon State Rooks meet Medford on the Medford court in the final southern Oregon game this season.

Ashland finished in second place in district play while Grants Pass and Roseburg tied for third.
