Hi School League Idle This Week

baseball nines have no scheduled league games this week but are resting in preparation for the final half of their schedule which begins next Tuesday when Ashland entertains Medford on SOCE Fuller field and Grants Pass moves to Jacksonville.

The Cavemen and Jacksonville now are tied for the league leadership with three wins and one loss apiece, while Medford is in third place and Ashland has yet to win those who wish to qualify under a league game to hold the cellar spot with six straight losses.

The latest loss suffered by the Grizzlies was the 8 to 7 setback administered by Jacksonville last week. Ashland outplayed the Redskins in every department of the game except in the "runs scored" column-where it counts the most. Tommy Mansfield started on the mound for the locals and did an excellent job so long as he had no men on bases. Inexperience proved costly to him every time a man gained a base and he was relieved in the second frame by Charlie

HINDSIGHT ON SPORTS

By I TOLD YOU SO

Practically no interest was shown in a softball meeting called for T. J. Norby's office Monday night. Only Harry Morris, Elks' manager, Jerry Gastineau, AHS coach, and Norby showed up out of the 15 notices mailed out and press notices which appeared.

Several others who could not appear sent regrets and signified their intention of participating if anything came of the meeting. Norby said more interest would have to be shown before the school district could do anything but promised whole-hearted cooperation if anything is decided upon.

What with so many young men going into the various services of our country it seems doubtful if there remains enough softball material in Ashland to form a league that would provide enough competition to draw spectators thru the turnstiles and pay the bills.

However, an interesting angle was brought to light by Larry Hunter. He suggests that the school facilities be available for whatever number of young men care to turn out regularly for the opening exhibition game of the practice (if there are enough to make it pay) and have these men elect a coach which would also be responsible for their actions. Practices and intra-team games would whip the squad into shape for competition against such softball teams as might be organized in other southern Oregon towns as well as possible army teams when soldiers are stationed at Camp White.

This plan would present some interesting competition from the spectators' viewpoint and home games probably would draw enough money to defray expenses of the team as well as reimburse the school district for whatever little they might be out.

We fully agree with Hunter's idea and only hope this falls into the hands of men who are able to start the ball rolling. From the interest shown at the meeting a softball league seems to be out for Ashland this year so if the sport is to be indulged in here as a summer pastime, the time is ripe for some organizing genius to step in and take over from here.

We feel sure merchants who have sponsored teams in the past would gladly donate uniforms which they already hold for any team that might be organized to represent Ashland. And, in payment for the advertising worn on the players' suits, the merchants MIGHT even contribute a small
