

College Revamping Physical Ed Setup

The physical fitness program of the national war effort has necessitated a reorganization of the physical education curriculum at the Southern Oregon College of Education, according to Dr. Walter Redford, president. The college is participating in the United States Navy V-1 program and in the United States Army Air Corps enlisted reserve program which will necessitate getting all male students of the college physically fit and keeping them in tip-top condition for the duration.

The reorganization of the physical education program will be kept within the regular curriculum structure but will involve a new emphasis on physical training and conditioning and the amount of time spent in such physical activity will be increased by 66 2/3 percent.

The new proposal is that every man in school will be given a thorough physical examination by the institutional physician. As soon as this man has been pronounced physically fit by the school doctor, he will be required to take a physical education course meeting one hour each day and five days a week.

The instructional program for each class will involve the more vigorous physical activities. These activities will be selected with the idea in mind of conditioning the enrollees and to make them physically strong. Such activities as boxing, wrestling, apparatus, basketball, cross-country running, callisthenics, swimming, bag punching and rope jumping will make up a large portion of this new physical education program.

Classes for the most part will be so organized as to permit freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors to receive their training as classes.

While physical fitness long has been an attribute of the potential soldier, it is no less important for the women. Consequently every woman will be required to receive at least one hour of physical exercise in the scheduled physical education class each day, five days a week. These play periods and class periods will be organized and supervised by a physical education instructor. The activities will be both recreational and of the body building type. Remedial and corrective gymnastics will be further provided for all women students having faulty posture or in need of special physical treatment. This remedial and corrective work will be under the joint supervision of the college medical staff, the college health service and the physical education department.

The new program will begin in September of the fall term, 1942. It will be under the general supervision of Jean F. Eberhart, director of physical education for men, and D. Virginia Hales, director of physical education for women. It will be in effect for the duration of the war.

THIS AND THAT (By OLD TIMER)

To the Editor: Ashland could get along with fewer voting places, without unduly discommoding the electorate. Incidentally, it would effect a considerable saving in election expenses.

Moving the clocks forward an hour or so was a good idea, but how about moving up summer-day by a month or two?

When the soldier can't go to USO, USO goes to the soldier. Here are Army men, on detached duty at a post far from camp and USO clubhouses, getting coffee and doughnuts from the operator of a USO mobile unit. Simpson Claims So. Oregon Tennis Championship

Al Simpson today was claiming the southern Oregon tennis championship for his Ashland high racketeers because of their brilliant 6 to 1 victory over Medford here yesterday afternoon. Playing without Provost and Finnell, Ashland lost one match to Grants Pass there but made up for it with a later 7-0 win over the Cavemen.

By winning the first doubles match yesterday Ashland also made the deciding point that broke a tie match at Medford last week. Darkness prevented finishing last week's doubles and it was decided to finish it yesterday.

In each instance, in the following match results, Ashland players are named first: Provost defeated Buckingham 6-0, 6-0; Finnell lost to Pope 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; Bell beat Weisenberger 3-6, 6-0, 6-0; Mansfield beat McCormick 6-2, 6-0; Burdick defeated Tucker 6-1, 6-2; Provost and Finnell won over Buckingham and Pope 7-5 and 6-3; Bell and Mansfield won over Weisenberger and McCormick 6-1, 6-1.

Primary Holds Spotlight as Voters Go to Polls Tomorrow

Today marks the close of the primary nominating campaign in Oregon and candidates can only sit back and wait for the results of their canvassing for votes. Efforts of some of the candidates to inject a little spirit into the campaign have been fruitless, so far as public knowledge reveals, and it remains for the final count of the ballots to determine to what extent they succeeded.

Some interest has been displayed in the McNary-Geary race for nomination for United States senator. Expressions were heard yesterday that Geary is showing surprising strength and one spokesman went so

O-C League Gets Underway Sunday

The Oregon-California baseball league gets underway this weekend when Medford Craters encounter the Klamath Falls Pelicans on the Medford fairgrounds tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday. The Saturday night clash begins at 9 p. m. with the Sunday afternoon game booked to begin at 2 p. m. sharp.

Steve Crippen will probably be on the mound for Saturday night with Manager Dutch Lieber handling the coaching duties for the Craters Sunday afternoon.

In the other league game, Grants Pass travels to Dorris for a twilight tilt Saturday and an afternoon game Sunday.

Two AHS Trackmen Make State Meet

Charlie Jandreau and Ken Caton qualified for the state track and field meet to be held at Corvallis next Friday and Saturday when they participated in the district meet at Medford Saturday. Jandreau will probably compete in the high jump and pole vault while Caton will enter the 100 and 200 yard dashes.

Ashland placed fifth in the Medford meet. It was won by Medford with 53 1/2 points, Lakeview was second with 29 1/2, Klamath Falls third with 23 1/2, Grants Pass fourth with 22 1/2, and Ashland's 16 points netted them fifth. Henley, Marshfield, North Bend, Rogue River, Keno, Butte Falls and Myrtle Point trailed in that order.

Caton won fifth place in the 100 yard dash and second in the 220. Jandreau placed second in the high jump and pole vault. Provost finished fourth in the low hurdles and Mansfield came in fifth in the 880.

Traffic Deaths Down 32 Percent in State

With a total of 20 traffic fatalities for the month of April this year, compared to 40 for the same month last year, Oregon completed the first four months of 1942 with a 32 percent reduction in traffic deaths, figures compiled by Earl Snell, secretary of state, disclosed today.

During the first four months of this year, traffic accidents claimed 71 lives while for the same period last year, accidents took a toll of 105 lives. The 50 percent reduction effected during the months of April, contributed heavily to this reduction, Snell said.

Of the 20 persons killed in traffic accidents in the state in April, four, or 20 percent, were pedestrians. This is a stronger proportion of pedestrians that was reported in April of 1941, when, of the 40 deaths, seven, or 17.5 percent, were pedestrians.

Reduction of speed and greater care on the part of the drivers in congested areas, were factors listed by Snell as contributors to the lowered traffic death figure.

AHS Net Team to Meet Pelicans Here

Ashland high's tennis team clashes with Klamath Falls on the high school courts tomorrow afternoon in the only matches between these teams to be played this season.

The Grizzly netters will be somewhat handicapped without the services of Charlie Jandreau, who is at the state track meet in Corvallis, and Bill Cooke, who is ill with measles.

Bud Provost will be Ashland's number one man with Dick Finnell, John Bell, LaMar Ormond, and Tommy Mansfield or Bill Burdick following in that order.

far as to state that he would not be surprised to see McNary unseated. On the other hand, many voters cling to the belief that McNary's popularity has not waned to any appreciable extent and that the senate majority leader recent running mate of Wendell Wilkie will remain in Washington.

Little has been heard about the democratic candidates for senator, MacBeth A. Milne and Walter W. Whitbeck, both of Multnomah county.

In the new fourth congressional district there has been a near approach to a race. Four candidates are seeking the republican nomination and three aspirants are after the democratic honor. Of the republicans, three, Boehnke and Simon of Eugene and Ellsworth of Roseburg, have made the most outstanding campaign. The fourth man, Harvey T. Stutzer of Eugene, is little known in this part of the district. The democrats have three candidates, with Edward C. Kelly of Jackson county as the likely winner over Floyd K. Dover of Josephine county and Marvin T. Warlick of Lane.

In the governorship race the battle appears to be nip and tuck between Governor Charles A. Sprague and Secretary of State Earl Snell. There will be no surprise whichever way this contest turns out. On the democratic ticket, Howard Latourette appears to have the edge over Lew Wallace.

Robert S. Farrell, republican, and Francis Lambert democrat, have no opposition for the office of secretary of state, with the same condition prevailing for the office of commissioner of the bureau of labor for which W. E. Kimsey of Multnomah county seeks the republican nomination and Clarence F. Hyde the democratic nomination.

In the race for senator, sixth senatorial district, there is but one race—for the republican nomination. Earl T. Newbury of Ashland is pitted against Walter J. Looker of Medford. Newbury says, "Seeking election based on my record as legislator for the past two terms." Looker says, "Service to my community, state and nation."

Two candidates for state representative are found on the republican ballot, Wm. M. McAllister of Medford and Frank J. Van Dyke of Ashland. Both candidates should win handsily.

No contests are slated for sheriff, commissioner and surveyor. Syd I. Brown, democrat incumbent is seeking reelection, as are Wm. Perry for county commissioner and Paul B. Rynning on the republican ballot.

Grizzlies Stretch Loss Record to 9

It was the same old story at Fuller field Tuesday afternoon when the Ashland high school baseball team faced Jacksonville's Redskins for the courageous Grizzlies stretched their number of straight losses to nine in dropping a doubleheader to Leonard Patterson's outfit.

Bud Provost pitched the first game of the twin bill and was stopped 7 to 1 in a seven inning session. Quackenbush and Delbert Landing shared mound duties in the second clash which found Jacksonville ahead 9 to 1 at the end of five innings. Barney Riggs caught both games for Ashland. Mole worked the first one for Jacksonville and Smith was on the rubber for the second, with Johnson catching both.

In the first game Riggs hit a triple and, amid Bronx cheering from Patterson, stole home.

Grants Pass, with a double win over Medford last Friday, still has a firm grip on first place. The locals entertain the Cavemen here in a doubleheader next Monday afternoon. Ashland plays Medford there today in one game.
