Elks' Program To Mark Close Of Flag Week

Fine Talent Chosen To Pay Tribute to National Emblem

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend the Flag Day exercises sponsored by the Elks lodge and to be held in the Elks temple at 8 o'clock Sunday evening. While the present week has been designated as Flag week, and citizens have been urged to observe the occasion by the proper display of the national emblem National Flag day comes on June 14 and is one of the red letter days on the Elks calendar.

In many cities throughout the land special recognition is given National Flag day by parades and ceremonials. Observance may consist of an hour set aside for the purpose after which business-as-usual is resumed. An effort is made to make the public more flag-conscious and in this work the Elks have taken a leading part.

For this year's observance the local lodge has arranged a program embracing flag ceremonies, band music, community singing, a patriotic address, a tribute to the American Legion, a presentation in behalf of the Daughters of the American Revolution, besides the prescribed ceremonies of the Elks. The Shrine band under the direction of Gordon Tripp, Henry Enders, Mrs. Cay Huffman, Earl Newbry, Mrs. Gordon MacCracken, Dr. Claude E. Sayre, and Dr. Arthur S. Taylor all have prominent places on the program.

William B. Allen, exalted ruler, and Ivor Erwin, esquire, will lead the officers of the lodge in presenting the Elks part of the program.

PETITIONERS SEEK SELBY'S ELECTION

A petition was circulated early in the week to have the name of Lloyd Selby placed on the ballot for the office of director of school district No. 5 for the five-year term. Selby was appointed to the board to serve out the unexpired term of Dr. R. L. Burdick who resigned when inducted into the army.

Petitions for candidates for school board positions had to be filed by last Monday. School election will be held Monday, June 15.

ASHLAND STUDENT GRANTED SCHOLARSHIP

Frank P. King, Ashland, was one of 26 students at the University of Oregon to be granted a scholarship of $66 which will be applied against the annual tuition and fees of $108.50 for the school year 1942-43. This announcement was made Thursday by Dr. Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary of the university.

The scholarships were made possible through the appropriation of funds by the state system of higher education and are granted on the basis of need and ability of each student.

THIS AND THAT

To the Editor: Roger W. Babson, the eminent economics analyst, has a pleasing idea and a worthwhile one. With rationing, ceilings and freezing on practically everything else, he suggests, why not freeze local taxes.

Here's something new in transportation. With a two-wheeled buggy made from spare automobile parts, drawn by two rugged goats, a South Dakotan made a 2,200-mile journey to San Diego. He was on the road seven months and averaged 15 miles a day.

Fame and fortune awaits the horticulturist who develops a strawberry already sugared and covered with cream.

The Victory gardener is beginning to wonder why his plants don't look like those in the seed catalog.

They will never lick us, says Ickes, if the whole nation is under ration.

Here's hoping we don't have to go barefoot to conserve leather.

Hay making has begun on Second street.

Chicago, Ill., has nearly 2,000 churches with more than three million members and adherents.

CAREFUL COOKING WILL FLOAT A BATTLESHIP
BUDGET AND SAVE FOR WAR BONDS AND STAMPS

Horrors! Public Advised to Hoard!

Here is one type of food "hoarding" that is being encouraged rather than frowned on.

Oregon house holders who stock up on flour for future needs will be helping prevent loss of war time food reserves Robert B. Taylor, chairman of the state USDA war board said in endorsing the movement to "make every home a granary."

Every extra sack of flour stored in homes now will release more than a bushel of wheat storage space, Taylor reminded. Oregon wheat farmers are doing their utmost to provide five million bushels of new storage space for this year's crop, but they have been handicapped by scarcity of materials, he said.

The movement to encourage patriotic "hoarding" of flour as means of solving the grain storage problem was proposed by a Bremerton, Wash., newspaper, and has been endorsed by the governors of the three north-west states.

Perhaps the surest way to promote such buying would be to hint at a possible shortage, but that would certainly be stretching the truth, Taylor says.

Lost Army Plane Found Near Base Of Pilot Rock

An army plane lost in January and for which an intensive search was made by officers and men in this vicinity was found about 1 p. m. Tuesday by George E. Miller, state fire warden, who lives in Bellview. The plane crashed in a snow storm on Jan. 6.

Miller, accompanied by his assistant, Earl Hoadley, was clearing a trail to the Pilot Rock area. He said the plane hit the rock formation about 60 feet from the base and was smashed into a million pieces. The bodies of the three members of the crew, First Lt. Raymond Stockwell of Spokane, Wash., the pilot, Technical Sgt. Randolph Jones of Joplin, Mo., and Technical Sgt. Paul Stone of Bayshore, Texas, were found in separate spots about 100 feet from the base of the rock. One body was burned, apparently having been near a section of the plane which burned.

The Jackson county coroner, a contingent of eight soldiers and Captain Staats of the state police walked three miles from the highway to the location of the wreck and took the bodies to Medford.

According to Miller, the area where the plane and crew fell was clear of trees and he is at a loss to understand why the wreckage had not been discovered earlier by air parties which searched the region from time to time in the intervening months.

It was recalled by a wood cutter on the C. A. Haines farm in the Siskiyou that the plane was skimming the trees as it went over that area and it is reasoned that the pilot undoubtedly was the victim of some miscalculation of record of height at which the plane was flying.

Miss Loosley Bride Of Jay V. Hughes

The Miner is indebted to the Chiloquin Review for an account of the wedding of Miss Marie Loosley, homemaking instructor in Ashland high school, whose wedding was an event of May 30.

"In a beautiful double ring ceremony performed Saturday, May 30 at Westminister House on the Oregon State college campus at Corvallis, Miss Marie Loosley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Loosley of Fort Klamath became the bride of Jay V. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vaughn of this city. The ceremony was read by Dr. E. W. Warrington and the bride was given by Dr. Chambers, a member of the Oregon State staff.

"Miss Loosley wore a gown of white satin with fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Cornelia Hulst, wore a pale blue chiffon gown. George Drury, a fraternity brother, acted as best man for Mr. Hughes.

"A reception was held following the ceremony for about forty guests. The bride and groom left immediately after the reception for Tillamook where they will make their home.

"Both Mr. and Mrs. Hughes are graduates of Oregon State college. Mr. Hughes was affiliated with Kappa Delta Rho, a living organization there, and Mrs. Hughes was affiliated with Pines Co-op.

"Mrs. Hughes was a resident of Fort Klamath for a number of years and Mr. Hughes has been a resident of Chiloquin for the past 11 years. Mr. Hughes was a graduate of the local high school here."

Gas Supply Eased In Medford Area

Considerable relief was felt by gasoline dealers this week when an order was issued by the war production board eased up restrictions which had cut deliveries 33 1/2 percent. The new order permits a 50 percent increase in deliveries to stations within a 15-mile radius of the Medford post office, and makes allowance for the heavy increase in population due to construction work at Camp White.

The 50 per cent increase over the previously established quota will mean that service stations in the Medford area will receive approximately the same amount of gasoline as they did in the corresponding months of 1941, it was pointed out.

Oil company officials state that the new order was placed in effect to allow workers in war industries enough gasoline to drive their cars to and from their jobs. It is believed that the Medford area is the only one in the northwest so favored by the easement of the gasoline restriction.

You cannot be saved by valor and devotion to your ancestors; to each generation comes its patriotic duty; and upon your willingness to sacrifice and endure, as those before you have sacrificed and endured, rests the national hope.
—Charles Evans Hughes

Lions to Honor Charter Members Next Tuesday

Ashland den, Lions International, is making elaborate preparations to honor charter members at the next regular meeting, Tuesday evening, June 16. A committee appointed a few weeks ago has been functioning and there is promise of a noteworthy session when the nine original members of the den sit at the head table to receive what is due them.

Lion Ivor Erwin reported on the progress of the swimming and life saving campaign to be conducted here under the sponsorship of the Lions. Due to the employment situation it is expected that membership in the classes will be smaller than last year. Young people just out of school are obtaining employment in various pursuits, particularly orchard and garden work, and this is reducing the number of swimming recruits materially. Erwin thought there might be a number of recruits among the older people, citing that one woman past fifty had telephoned in to learn registration requirements. He also stated that arrangements had been completed with the Lithia theatre to sponsor a show the nights of June 20, 21, and 22, the Lions to participate in the receipts for the benefit of the swimming school.

Lion "Brick" Leach of Klamath Falls, former Ashland resident, was a guest of the local den.

Nine Fledgling Pilots Solo in Formation

Every day this type of formation flying is enacted over the West Coast by primary students of the West Coast Air Corps Training Center. In their Ryan primary trainers, nine of Uncle Sam's most recent Aviation Cadets pilot their planes in right echelon. In a few weeks the cadets will be on their way to faster and larger ships. In a few months they will receive their wings as second lieutenants and nine more young Americans will have added their strength and skill to the defense of Democracy. Married men may now apply for Aviation Cadet training.

Auxiliary Turns Over Many Articles To Local Hospital

Mrs. A. L. Schneider was hostess Tuesday afternoon at her home, the auxiliary Tuesday reported an extensive list of articles secured and prepared for the hospital, including the following:

- Two dozen flower vases.
- Twenty-one infant gowns.
- Ten breast binders.
- Five T-binders.
- One abdominal binder.
- Sixteen baby bands.

The hospital provides materials and the ladies make them up. The auxiliary is open to all women who wish to aid in this worthy enterprise and anyone wishing to contribute flower vases may do so through the auxiliary or direct to the hospital.

Joining the group this week were Mrs. Wes Allin and Mrs. G. J. Lindsey.

Mrs. J. G. Mackie will be hostess to the group next Tuesday afternoon at her home, 212 Vista. The ladies meet at 1 o'clock.

First Band Concert Delightful Treat

Ashland music lovers expressed approval of the first summer concert given last Thursday evening by the Ashland Municipal band. Favorable weather added its bit to the evening's enjoyment and the summer concert season got off to a good start.

Featured on the program was Bill Alves, who sang two numbers to band accompaniment. This proved a delightful diversion from the regular band music and has created a demand for other vocal selections for which Director Gordon Tripp is preparing to present at future concerts.

Mr. Tripp is not going in for "heavy" numbers in his programs, at least not in the beginning. He is making good use of standard marches, light overtures, serenades and popular numbers, presenting them in an entertaining manner. The first concert showed the result of intensive practice and as the season progresses his instruction will be manifest in the high quality music presented.

Concert time is 8 o'clock sharp. Programs, used for the first time this season, include the following information and requests which, if closely observed by the audience will make the concert more enjoyable for all:

"This concert is presented for the entertainment of the guests of Lithia Park by the City of Ashland."

"Requests will gladly be played when possible. Please hand same to program boys or to any member of the band."

"Silence is urgently requested while band is playing, and parents are asked not to allow the children to play in front of the band stand."

"Automobile owners are requested not to sound horns or start motors while the band is playing."

The band has no fund for programs and if the practice is to be continued throughout the season it will have to be sponsored by individuals or firms. The Miner Press provided programs for the first concert and will gladly cooperate with others who wish to help make the band concerts more enjoyable.

LINCOLN SUMMER TRAINING SCHOOL OPENED MONDAY

The Lincoln Training school opened Monday and will continue to July 10. The session will be one-half day in length beginning at 9:00 o'clock and closing at 12:00 each day, Monday through Friday.

The summer school offers a real opportunity for both parents and children in Ashland. Many activities and experiences of interest and value to both boys and girls are being made available during this summer session with no cost to the community or to the parents of students enrolled.

The children will be given instruction in the subject-matter fields and a fine program of arts, music, folk dancing and sports is being conducted. This summer program will be of special value to students to prevent forgetting and to strengthen the child's school work generally.

GRADUATES NAMED TO TEACHING JOBS

The following five seniors who are recent graduates of the Southern Oregon College of Education have received teaching positions. They are: Jean Drew of Hildebrand, who will teach in Klamath county; Bertha Wertz of Medford, who will teach in Klamath county; Cyril Sander of Medford, who will teach in the Altamont school, and Martha Gearhart and Margaret Lininger of Ashland, who will teach in Lebanon and Rogue River respectively.

Council Decides Against Hiring Recreational Head

Group Believes USO And Other Agencies Sufficient Here

Ashland's city council, in meeting late Tuesday afternoon, decided against hiring a recreational manager in connection with entertaining the soldiers from Camp White. While going on record for every form of cooperation in providing recreation for the soldiers, it was not deemed necessary to go to the expense a new office would create.

Discussion was prompted by the proposal of a government official that Ashland should hire a manager or director of recreation, but after hearing a report by G. M. Green, who recently investigated recreational setups in other areas, the council arrived at the conclusion that a manager would not be necessary inasmuch as the USO and other agencies already have been set up for that purpose.

The council took no action on a proposal that a recreational manager be employed by the city of Medford or the county. The USO furnishes a city-wide recreational program for which funds are provided by the city or county.

The council has petitioned the Federal Security Agency to provide an adequate recreational building here and also petitioned the USO to furnish operating and recreational management personnel for Ashland.

A delegation of ladies from the Civic club, headed by Mrs. Charles Weaver, attended the meeting, as did Mrs. Earl Leever, chairman of the Ashland recreational committee, and Dr. R. E. Poston, president of the Ashland chamber of commerce and member of the recreational committee. The group presented an agreement whereby the Civic club would open its building for a recreation center. Terms were $50 monthly rental and agreement that the Federal Security Agency or other renting agency would put a new roof on the building, with the Civic club reserving use of the building for meetings by that organization or other organizations on Wednesday. The proposal will be sent to the Federal Security Agency, whose representative had expressed favorable consideration for the clubhouse.

Craters Score Two Wins Over GeePees

OREGON-CALIFORNIA BASEBALL LEAGUE

Team	W	L	Pct.
Medford	4	2	.667
Dorris	4	2	.667
Klamath Falls	4	2	.667
Grants Pass	0	6	.000

The doubleheader win the Medford Craters scored over the Grants Pass Merchants Sunday threw the Oregon-California league into a three-way tie between Medford, Dorris and Klamath Falls.

Medford won the first game 10 to 2 and eked out the second one 5 to 4, while Dorris won the Saturday night game from the Pelicans 11 to 3 and lost Sunday, 3-2.

Dorris plays at Medford Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and Grants Pass has a like schedule at Klamath Falls.

CAMP WHITE BUS SCHEDULE CHANGED

To accommodate employees at Camp White who work overtime, the Rogue River Transit company has arranged its bus schedule to accommodate everyone. The new bus schedule went into effect on Tuesday morning and is as follows:

Buses leaving Ashland: 4:55 a. m.; 5:45 a. m.; 6:30 a. m.; 7:10 a. m.

Buses leaving Camp White for Ashland: 4:30 p. m.; 5 p. m.; 5:15 p. m.; 6:15 p. m.

Hunting Regulations To Be Considered

Tentative hunting regulations for big game, upland game birds and fur-bearing animals during the 1942 season will be considered by the state game commission when it meets on Saturday, June 13, at its offices in Portland. The commission then will adjourn until June 27, at which time the regulations will be formally adopted, thus providing an interim of two weeks for publicizing the regulations before they become final.

The meeting each time will be open to the general public.

Sincerity is impossible unless it pervades the whole being; and the pretense of it saps the very foundation of character.
