CUE TO BARBECUE

Max O. Cullen, nationally-famous barbecue expert, shows Muriel Barr, young M-G-M. starlet, how simple it is to barbecue meat. Pete Smith, producer of short subjects bearing his name, looks on as Cullen illustrates the correct method for turning a steak during the filming of "Barbee-Cues."

Backyard Barbecue Solves War's Entertainment Problem

With the entire nation seeking simpler means of entertainment because of war time requirements, the old-fashioned barbecue is rapidly growing in popularity. Backyard barbecues are becoming quite the style from California to Maine. Old timers at this business of barbecuing have developed it into a fine culinary art, and in this connection Max O. Cullen, nationally known barbecue and carving expert, has brought out some new wrinkles for the handling of those old stand-bys, hamburgers and frankfurters. Why does a frankfurter curl? Well, that's a problem that has bothered many a host, but if you're having a barbecue party and you want your franks to lie slim and straight as they nicely brown, try Cullen's little trick, as taken from the M-G-M. Pete Smith specialty, "Barbee-Cues."

First, slice the frank lengthwise

MOTHER OF ARTHUR COOPER PASSES

Word was received by Ashland relatives of the passing of Mrs. E. W. Redifer of Myrtle Creek. Mrs. Redifer, who had been an invalid for several years, was the mother of Arthur E. Cooper of Weyerhaeuser Camp and a sister of Miss May Benedict of Ashland. She was born in Elkton, Douglas county, a member of the pioneer Benedict family, and formerly resided in Ashland where she was a devoted member and worker in the Christian church.

Surviving are four children of a former marriage: Rev. Oscar Cooper of Spokane, Wash.; Ernest Cooper, Springfield, Ore.; Arthur Cooper, and Mrs. Elmer Leighton of Myrtle Creek. Other survivors include three stepchildren: Paul Redifer, Eugene; Aubrey Redifer, Klamath Falls; two sisters; May Benedict of Ashland and Mrs. Effie Elliott of Bellingham, Wash., and a brother, Clarence Benedict of Portland.

GOES TO SALEM

Mrs. Anne Sprague, superintendent of schools in Lake county, left Ashland Monday afternoon for Salem to attend the annual meeting of the County School Superintendents' association, of which she is a past president. Mrs. Sprague is taking advanced work during summer session at Southern Oregon College of Education.

Mihalikis Wants Go With McDonald

It will be another top-notch wrestling program on hand at the Medford armory next Monday night, according to Promoter Mack Lillard who is busy lining up three outstanding matches. Prince Selaki Mihalikis didn't like the way Sockeye Jack McDonald refereed his match last Monday and has indicated his willingness to get the ex-Tacoma logger in the ring with him in the role of wrestler. Mihalikis accepted for a solid blow on the chin from McDonald when the Arab stooped to low tactics in his go with George Craig and got a general roughing up when he attacked Craig after the fight was over. If Lillard sees his way to match Mihalikis and McDonald both men will undoubtedly use anything at their disposal to win.

There is an excellent array of heavyweight wrestlers on the Pacific coast at the present time and Lillard said he is doing his best to bring them to Medford.

LOOKING FOR RESIDENCE IN ASHLAND

Mrs. Small, director of USO building and Mrs. Fontaine, program chairman, both of Medford, are preparing to move to Ashland, according to Dr. Ralph E. Poston, president of the Ashland chamber of commerce. These women will have charge of the USO recreational center here and wish to be located near their work.

Both are paid workers of the USO representing the YWCA.

War Damage Insurance

Soon after Pearl Harbor, Congress passed legislation providing temporary automatic, free, war-damage protection for nearly all tangible property. This terminates July 1. Beginning July 1, it will be up to private property owners to buy this protection.

Watch for important announcements soon. The new protection will be provided by the government-owned War Damage corporation. The established fire insurance companies will act as fiscal agents and arrange for coverage. See your local agent soon.
