WOMEN IN THE NEWS

BY JANET CUPLER

WOMAN OF THE WEEK: Since the bill providing for a women's naval auxiliary was first introduced in congress, there has apparently been little doubt that Mildred McAfee, the 42-year old president of Wellesley college, would be chosen as its head. Born in Parkville, Mo., she was graduated from Vassar in 1920. Since then she has worked with girls and women as a teacher, administrator, dean of women and director of girls' work for a Chicago church. She is known as a capable administrator, although her youthful appearance, and vivid personality are deceptive. Like the director of the WAAC, she can accomplish a great deal without obvious effort and without the desperately efficient manner sometimes found in women who are "doing things."

BRITAIN AT WAR: In Canada the province of Quebec is going "all out" for tank production, with 500 women already at work as welders. . . . The Union of South Africa has issued a new one penny stamp carrying the picture of a war nurse. . . . A dispatch from England reveals that British women are almost 100 per cent mobilized, with about half of them doing full time war production work.

HEADS "WAR BRIDES": Mrs. Evelyn Richman Kashuk, whose husband is a corporal in the army, was recently named president of "War Brides of America," an organization of women who have become brides since September, 1940.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES: Women are working as student conductors on San Francisco's Market Street railway cars. . . . The W.P.B., taking the dilemma of conservation firmly by the horns, has prohibited the sale by retail stores of all officers' insignia for use as costume jewelry and has ordered that service men may no longer give such insignia to their "girl friends."

SUNNY SIDE UP: That the OPA does not wish to discourage buying of items not on the priority list is indicated by the reported increase in business in what are called the "luxury trades." Furs, fine jewelry, china and furniture sales are high and apparently are going to be higher. But don't be alarmed. We haven't suddenly gone money mad. What actually is happening is that manufacturers of luxury items are "trading down." Jewelers report sales of 100,000 diamond rings a month since Pearl Harbor, but most of these sold for less than $50. And economical furs, like muskrat, wolf, beaver and opossum account for the bulk of the fur sales.

SIX INCH SERMON

R.V. ROBERT H. HARPER

'Abraham's Intercessory Prayer.
Lesson for August 9: Genesis 18: 23-33.

Golden Text: James 5:16.
Soon after Abraham and Lot separated, Lot settled in Sodom, a city so wicked that its name was given a vile sin. See Genesis 19:5. And God told Abraham of his purpose to destroy the city.

Abraham prayed for Sodom. He was naturally concerned for his kinsmen there and he continued to plead until God promised to spare the city if 10 righteous people were found in it. Fifteen years before Abraham had rescued Lot and others from the banded kings (Genesis 14:16); he may not have heard from Lot since but supposed his household would number more than 10.

Though a pioneer of faith (last lesson), Abraham's prayer for Sodom did not avail. Some think he had a bargaining spirit in his praying. To the author it appears that Abraham's prayer failed because he took too much upon himself, not in speaking unto the Lord (verse 27) but in assuming a knowledge of conditions. He thought there were 10 righteous people in Sodom and there were not. We may sometimes ask of God according to our knowledge instead of trusting to Omniscience. So the second failure of Abraham was stopping short in his plea. He thought he had reached the goal but he had not.

So let us pray in perfect humility and trust. God alone knows what is best for us. The value of prayer may be sadly limited if we assume too great a knowledge of our needs as we approach God.

FUR SALES are in full swing so if you are buying a new fur coat keep in mind certain fundamentals. First be sure that your coat is the correct size. One that is too small causes unnecessary strain on the skins and makes them wear poorly.

Second, be very careful about style. Choose a conservative classic cut, one that will be wearable for several seasons without "restyling." A fur coat is an investment that the average woman doesn't make every year.

If you had corn-on-the-cob last night for dinner and someone's appetite failed so that an ear or two were left over make this corn soufflé tomorrow for luncheon. Serve it with long rolls split and toasted, tomato salad and deep dish peach pie.

Corn Soufflé
One and one-half cups corn cut from cob, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, few drops tabasco sauce, 3 eggs.

Melt butter, stir in flour and cook, stirring constantly until bubbly.

Add milk slowly, stirring vigorously. Look and stir until boiling. Add corn, seasonings and yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Remove at once from heat and let cool slightly while beating whites of eggs until stiff. Fold beaten egg whites into cooked mixture and turn into an UNBUTTERED baking dish. Bake 50 minutes in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees F.). Serve at once from baking dish.

Choose perfectly ripe peaches for the peach pie. Pare, cut in halves and remove pits. Put in a deep pie dish or a shallow baking dish, cut side up. Sprinkle with 2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca and 3 tablespoons strained honey. Put a dot of butter in each peach half and cover with rich pastry. Put in a hot oven for 10 minutes to bake the crust. Then reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve warm or cold.

Speaking of honey, here's a recipe for a honey cake frosting that's really delicious.

Boil 1 cup of strained honey until it spins a thread. Beat whites of 2 eggs with 1/4 teaspoon salt until stiff. Beat in the boiling honey slowly, and continue to beat until cool and stiff. Flavor with vanilla and spread on cool cake.

You can sow radish seed, certain varieties of lettuce and spinach in the garden for fall meals. These vegetables all like cool weather so why not keep your garden growing until we have heavy frosts.

You Can Help Make Telephone Service Meet Demands of War

By keeping conversations BRIEF.
By being sure of your number before you call.
By using Long Distance for essential messages ONLY.
By using station-to-station service wherever possible for toll calls.

Your cooperation will aid in this national emergency because the demands of war have loaded our long distance lines and many of our local facilities to capacity and beyond.

Materials required to increase circuits and switchboards cannot be obtained—they must go into the making of weapons and munitions. It is not now possible to build more plant.

Therefore, we all are confronted with the necessity of getting the most out of what we have. In following the above suggestions, you can save yourself time and expense and you will help us keep the way clear for War Messages That Must Go Through.

We appreciate your splendid response in helping to meet these problems which involve the safety and security of us all.
