THE WRITING ON THE WALL

The writing on the wall is everywhere now, for anyone to see—regimentation, of jobs, of income, of living conditions, of time, thought, and action. This is one of the demands of total war in seeking the greatest efficiency and production from available man and woman-power. How to so gear output that our standards of living at home will remain "American" and our armed forces will be supplied on time with all the unprecedented needs of global warfare, is the problem. In theory, it is protection through equalization, "temporary" control of individual activity for the country's good in time of emergency. While our people willingly accept "temporary" restrictions as a necessity of war, the thing to remember is that word "temporary." We must not drift into a mental attitude that will pave the way for permanent regimentation. That isn't the kind of people we are. What we have, what we are fighting for, is our roots, growing deep into the soil of free enterprise and free thinking, and the privilege of minding our own business. That privilege is what we must go back to, after the war, if freedom as we know it is to survive in America.

ELLSWORTH MAKES A HIT

Interest in the present contest for the job of congressman to represent the new Fourth district at the nation's capital heightened considerably last week when Harris Ellsworth, republican candidate made his appearance here. It develops that Ellsworth has a host of good friends in this area. Some are former college classmates, others include those he has worked with in battles for highway improvements, and toward the solution of other problems affecting the southwestern counties of Oregon. Harris Ellsworth's call at our office left a definitely favorable impression. He is well known throughout the state as an able newspaper man. As an editor he has been a student of affairs, and as a progressive forward looking citizen of his state he has been untiring in his efforts for industrial development, improved transportation, better rates, and wider markets for farm products. Ellsworth also knows his way around in politics both locally and in the nation's capital. He has spent considerable time in Washington, D. C. during the past two years and our congressman and senators there are his personal friends. By way of showing how he stands in his own community we point out that when the county court of Douglas county faced the necessity of appointing a man to represent the county in the Oregon senate following the death of Senator Charles W. Clark, Ellsworth was chosen. If Ellsworth is sent to congress it is our opinion that our district will be well represented.

CAMP WHITE NOTES

invitation to all girls in the surrounding territory was issued by Miss Semenza who states that any girl eighteen or over who wishes to attend should get in touch with their USO and list their names. It is necessary that they register with the USO so that transportation can be arranged. The girls especially in Medford should contact either the USO or the Outpost in making their arrangements. Girls are to wear gingham and prints and the enlisted men will wear their fatigue uniforms. Miss Semenza also states that soldier's wives or sweethearts who desire to attend may be escorted by the soldier if he will contact Mrs. Hopkins or herself to register them. This Hallow'een dance promises to be the largest and best dance ever held at Camp White and both soldiers and girls should be making arrangements to attend. The famous Engineers band will furnish the music and ghosts, goblins and skeletons will be at their best. Their will be a small admission charge of twenty-five cents.

BOY SCOUTS ACTIVE IN SCRAP DRIVE

The Crater Lake Council of the Boy Scouts of America was paid a high compliment today for its activity in the scrap drive. Speaking of the effort of the Boy Scouts of America to locate metal for salvage, Major Lyman V. Williamson, Camp White, Oregon, salvage officer in charge of the Jackson County scrap drive, said, "I was highly impressed by the performance of Troop 10 of Butte Falls. The boys conducted an investigation to locate scrap, and turned in results that are a credit to them and to the organization as a whole." In a report to K. A. Wells, scout executive, Troop 10 of Butte Falls reported a total of 181,000 pounds of scrap, Major Williamson said. All scrap was carefully located, classified as to kind, the equipment need to secure it listed, and the weight recorded. Collections are being made as quickly as possible, but it was emphasized by Major Williamson that all scrap could not be collected at once. "We should consider this scrap drive for the duration" he said. "While the mills need scrap, we should continue to collect it. This is a vital part of the war effort, and there should be no let-up in adding to our stock piles of scrap until victory has come."

ARTILLERY FIRE IS BEING CONDUCTED

Artillery fire is being conducted in the Beagle area on the Camp White military reservation on the afternoons of October 26 to October 30 inclusive, according to an announcement from Headquarters Camp White, Oregon. Range guards will be posted on or before 10:00 A. M. and roads leading into the area will be closed. The Beagle range is located directly north of upper Table rock on the reservation. Firing on any part of the area is indicated by a red flag on the Antelope range house at the corner of Wellen and Corey roads, or at the Beagle range house one mile north of the Military Bridge.

CARTOON WINNER NAMED

Pfc. Newman Myrah of the Field Artillery was named first prize winner in the Camp White cartoon contest which closed October 15, it was announced today from Headquarters, Camp White, Oregon. Second prize and third place went to Technical Sergeant L. J. Hare of the Field Artillery. Sponsored jointly by the Camp Exchange system and the Public Relations Department, the contest was initiated to seek a cartoon design to encourage correspondence, for use upon the flaps of some of the Exchange envelopes. Judges were Major John A. Horsley, Lt. Frank A. warrett, and Sergeant James Stone.

The design judged best, which won the first prize pen and writing set, depicts a soldier leaning over a fence, saying "Here's Mine-How About Yours?" Second prize, $10 in trade at the Camp Exchange, was soldier reading a letter, the expression on his face one of great delight and third prize, $5 in trade at the Exchange, is a soldier sitting on a Jap while reading a letter, with the caption "Letters from you will make this job easier."

A large number of cartoons were entered in the contest, it was announced from the Public Relations Department of Camp White, and the quality of submitted material was in most cases of professional caliber.

CIVILIANS WANTED TO APPLY FOR POSITIONS AT THE CAMP

An urgent call to the civilians in the neighboring territory of Camp White to apply for positions at the Camp White Exchange was sent out today by Major Merrill G. Weiler, Camp White Exchange Officer.

Major Weiler announced that Exchange No. 16 was opened today and with the opening of additional exchanges the need for additional help was great. The Major went on to say that in the near future he planned to have all exchanges running to full capacity and especially had openings for fountain girls and clerks in the merchandise department. The hours are pleasant on a wages good. However, to be eligible to work at camp the civilian must have reached their eighteenth birthday. If the applicant is accepted for employment there is a fine chance for rapid advancement to either manager or assistant manager of one of the many Camp White Exchanges.

Major Weiler continued by saying that if any one was looking for an opportunity to work at Camp White they should contact Mrs. R. W. Coleman, Personnel Manager, Building 3582 for the application blanks and should do so immediately.

COURT ORDER RELEASES MATERIAL

All obsolete equipment of the C & OC railroad was released for the scrap pile by order signed Monday in circuit court by Judge H. K. Hanna. Between 280 and 300 tons of scrap material will be made available by the order, according to Sam Bowe attorney for C. H. Demaray, who is receiver for the railroad.

The court order authorized the receiver to dismantle two old locomotives, approximately 10 old flat cars and to sell as scrap odd pieces of iron, damaged wheels and axles, bolts, nuts and other unusable material.

The old locomotives and cars will be cleaned of usable parts before being broken up for scrap.

The dismantling process will begin immediately under direction of the receiver. Actual dismantling will be done by the Pacific Portland Cement Company, lessee of the road. A crane and cutter will break up the material and it will be classified on the sidings where the cars now stand. Some flat cars have stood for years on the curve near Park street and the locomotives may be seen from Grants Pass Courier

FEATHERWEIGHT HELMETS PROTECT SOLDIERS

Weighing less than 12 ounces, plastic helmets now being made by Westinghouse for Uncle Sam's soldiers are tough enough to withstand a force of 15 feet. Worn during combat as a liner inside a two-pound steel helmet, the cloth and resin plastic headpiece provides insulation against heat. During non-combat service, only the lightweight liner is worn as a head covering.

FIND HONEY—SAVE MONEY

They had a sweet time in the old town—church painters at Ellsworth, Ill., found three tubs of wild honey between the walls of the church. Members of the congregation confiscated it, paid for the paint with the proceeds of the sale.
