THIS AND THAT

(By OLD TIMER)
To the Editor:

It is presumed that Vice President Wallace was able to get his second cup of coffee while on his 15-day truce in the coal controversy should serve as a cooling off period, at the end of which a fair settlement is likely to be reached.

In 1918 the hopes of the world were declared to hang on 14 points. But now more than that are required to get two pounds of round steak.

Hitler went to Bulgaria to get some help from King Boris. It is said that while there Adolph got a line on a good cave in the mountains.

American Red Cross supplies amounting to $38,413,000 have been delivered in Britain for civilian relief since the start of the war.

Under a retrenchment program directed by Congress, 41,631 employees have been eliminated from the pay rolls of 34 "non-war" governmental agencies.

Uncle Zeké says, "The economic salvation of the nation, confronted as it is with a national expenditure that staggers the imagination of all time, depends not upon the financial wizardry of a few administration officials in Washington, but the simple honesty, plain economy, and unsupervised faithfulness of every bloomin' soul."

Attend Rotary Meet

Dr. G. W. Bruce and Will Dodge members of the Local Rotary Club, returned last Sunday morning from attending the District Convention of Rotary Clubs in Victoria, British Columbia. They traveled by train to Seattle, thence by boat to Victoria, and following the convention they returned to Seattle by boat on Empress Charlotte, and then by train to Ashland. They report a very interesting and profitable convention.

Dr. Bruce, in speaking of the convention said, "There were two main ideas running through nearly every address given on the program, the idea of a better post-war world; and the idea of religion as the foundation and hope for everything better in future years." Will Dodge reports that some very fine suggestions were gathered for the more successful operation of clubs the size of the Ashland group.

JUNIOR HIGH GIVES PROGRAM

Once again Ashland citizens have enjoyed a musical treat. The presentation this time was by the students of the Junior High under the able leadership and direction of Mrs. Koehler and Mr. Mirick with Jim Jandreau and Joan Helm as student assistants.

Much was added to the general effect by the costuming of the performers. The chorus was in white surplices, the band in white shirts and trousers while the girls wore gay formals.

Special instrumental numbers were a clarinet solo by Robert Elhart in "The Technician" by Endresen, a cornet solo by Dorothy Elhart in "The Victor" by Endresen, and a brass group composed of Hugh Van Dewalkert, Larry Kennicott, Jim Jandreau, Joe Lambert, Curtis Vail, and Isabelle Williams in "Shadwell" by Richards with band accompaniment.

The girls triple trio composed of Marynell Montgomery, Elsie Ruth Schultz, Yvonne Miles, Bonnie Griffith, Shirley Wilcox, Gayle Morris, Mary Elizabeth Owen, Charlotte Woods, and Mary Alice Young sang their two numbers very well especially the a capella number, "America My Own". The boys double quartet composed of Curtis Vail, Charles Wolfe, Gary Christlieb, Roger Flaharty, Harry Bennett, Jim Merriman, Jim Jandreau, Harold Colvin, sang two numbers and showed promise for future high school material.

Beverly Autry, accompanist, deserves special mention for her exceptional accompaniments to the chorus.

On behalf of the band and orchestra Robert Elhart expressed appreciation to Mr. Mirick for his efforts. Joyce Colvin graciously thanked Mrs. Koehler and presented her with a basket of roses in the name of the chorus.

Considering the age of the performers it was an unusual and outstanding attraction.
