Fight the Forgery Racket!

By Frank J. Wilson
Chief, United States Secret Service

WHENEVER you pay out your good money for any government check, remember one thing:

Have the check initialled by the employee who pays out the money for it.

This will help you to place responsibility if the endorsement on the check should be declared a forgery. Also, it will be of much help when an investigation is conducted in an effort to arrest the check forger.

There is another pointer which is closely associated with this one. Here it is:

Try to write on the back of the check a brief description of the person who presents it, if that person is a stranger. For instance, you might write "WM—50—5'9"—heavy" meaning "White man about 50 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall, of heavy build."

This will take only a few seconds and may be the means of tracing a forger and recovering your loss, if the check proves to bear a forged endorsement.

Gems of Thought

THERE is a courtesy of the heart; it is allied to love. From it springs the purest courtesy in the outward behavior.—Goethe.

And he who gives a child a treat
Makes Joy-bells ring in Heaven's street,
And he who gives a child a home,
Builds palaces in Kingdom come.
—MASEFIELD.

There can be but a single goal of education, and that—education to courage.—Dr. Alfred Adler.

Knowledge is proud that she knows so much; Wisdom is humble that she knows so little.—Bishop King.

Household Hints

Start root vegetables in boiling, salted water, about one teaspoon of salt to a quart of water.

• • •

Baked ham is glorified by pouring honey over the ham before browning. It gives a delicate brown color and a delicious flavor.

• • •

No one particularly likes to iron curtain ruffles. Why not dip the curtains into cleaning fluid, two gallons for six pairs of curtains? If they are hung in the air to dry, and care is exercised, they will not require pressing.

• • •

So that they will not appear spotted, iron shantungs and ponges dry.

• • •

A cushion or pad underneath a rug not only makes it feel softer and warmer but will also make the rug last longer.

• • •

Several strands of wire placed from end to end lengthwise over the poultry feed trough will prevent chickens from getting into the trough with their feet and wasting and contaminating the feed.

• • •

Gilt frames can be cleaned by dipping a soft cloth in milk and rubbing gently over the soiled spots. Repeat several times if necessary.

• • •

No job is so important that you cannot take time to do it safely.

• • •

Square corners on small linoleum rugs or mats often become broken and unsightly. Cutting the corners round will prevent this and make your rugs stay new much longer. When so treated they will lie flatter on the floor and will not be kicked about so easily. To make sure the corners you cut are uniform, trace a cutting line on the rug first with a saucer or pie plate.

• • •

When drying a sweater or sweat shirt, use a wire coat hanger and bend the ends almost together while putting the garment on the hanger or removing it. This prevents stretching the neck of the garment.

ON THE HOME FRONT
With RUTH WYETH SPEARS

EARLY American wall pockets cut out of light weight pine or scraps of half inch material may have many modern uses. In the kitchen they are just the thing for ration books and a pad for the grocery list. Just inside the front door one will lend a decorative note and make a convenient place for driving gloves and keys.

Originally these pockets were made in a great variety of designs and were used for letter boxes. They are still useful for this purpose or for a leave-a-note pad and pencil. If you enjoy working with wood you may want to cut these pockets out by hand with a coping saw as shown here. If you have a jig saw it is much faster, or you may mark your design and take it to a woodworking shop to be cut out for a few cents.

• • •

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has made patterns in actual size for three of these Early American letter boxes. The patterns are on one sheet with complete directions for making and finishing. Request Pattern No. 261, enclosing 15 cents. Address:

Greeting Among Arabs

In North Africa, the ritual of greeting among Arabs demands that the man "looking down" should speak first, irrespective of his social status, says Collier's. Thus, the man on a camel greets first the man on a horse, the horseback rider nods first to the man on a donkey, the donkey rider bows first to the pedestrian and the pedestrian first to the man sitting down.

Largest Relief Map

The world's largest relief map, a model of the United States, is installed in its own building at the Babson Institute in Babson Park, Mass.

Completed on December 31, 1940, after 15 years' work it is built on a horizontal scale of four miles to the inch, is studied from catwalks and shows this country as it would be seen from a point in space 700 miles above the earth.
