THE SHANGRI-LA

The United States Navy, instigated and abetted by that lover of naval lore, Franklin D. Roosevelt, is about to break a tradition. There are fairly strict rules for labeling ships or war: a battleship is called after a State, heavy cruiser rates a big city, a light cruiser a small city, a destroyer honors some naval hero or some distinguished friend of the Navy, and a submarine takes the name of a fish or some animal that is at home in the water. Aircraft carriers enjoy more freedom, for they can be named after early fighting ships of our Navy or after battles. Thus the Saratoga, the Bonhomme Richard, the Kearsarge. But until now no ship has been named after an imaginary place, the creation of a storyteller's dream.

One is going to be so entitled. It is, of course, the Shangri-la. In a moment of inspiration President Roosevelt told the reporters that the planes which bombed Tokyo took off from this never-never land of James Hilton's invention. Actually their starting point was the rolling deck of the Hornet, later lost in the Midway fight. So the new aircraft carrier, for which we are all being asked to buy an extra dollar's worth of war stamps this month, will bestow a triple honor: on Mr. Hilton's bold imagination, on the lost Hornet and on the men who carried out what was probably the most spectacular air raid of history.

Subscriptions for the Shangri-la are now well past the halfway mark. We are promised that her planes will take part in another attack on Tokyo—exact date withheld for reason of security. Those who haven't contributed their dollars should do so at once. We don't wish to keep the Japanese waiting.

The above article is an editorial from "The New York Times" for Friday, July 16, 1943.

SPENDING SPREE DANGEROUS

During the first quarter of this year Americans went on a spending spree. Total consumer expenditures were 21 billion dollars or at the seasonally adjusted rate of 90 billion dollars. It will not profit us to clamor like unruly children for goods of which there is an ever diminishing supply unless we take heroic steps—and that means stepping up our War Bond buying through the Payroll Savings Plan to our very limit—our income will be taken from us by price inflation.

President Roosevelt tells us that the Payroll Savings Plan is our most powerful single weapon in the war against inflation. Inflation lays a heavier and more inequitable burden than any form of visible or invisible taxation. Inflation literally picks our pockets while patting us on the back. The least we can do is to make sure that the Treasury's goal of 18 billion dollars in additional bond purchases by individuals is reached.

All those wishing permits or licenses to drive cars are asked to get in touch with the examiner during these hours.

HEED PRESIDENT'S PLEA

President Roosevelt in a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has called upon every American to figure out for him or herself the maximum extent of their saving in War Bonds. Every dollar Americans put away in War Bonds is a dollar which will bring victory closer on both the fighting and home fronts.
