Service men on furlough and other essential war travelers now have the "right of rail" with Southern Pacific. It's the railroad's job in wartime to carry such travelers wherever they need to go, and without delay. If you don't need to take the train, we hope you won't.

RESERVE FOR SOLDIERS WHILE FRESHMEN GATHER

The 1300 ASTF students now finishing the second term of the military program in the Oregon State College will have more than a week's furlough before the start of the fall term and will be gone from the campus if they wish during the annual freshman week for civilian students, starting October 5.

Registration for civilian students will take place Saturday, October 9, and for the military students Monday, October 11. Number of women students applying for admission this fall continues slightly higher than last year, although civilian male students will total only a few hundred.

DAVIS—WHEELER NUPTIALS

Pfc. Roy J. Wheeler from Camp White and Miss Nelle Davis from La Jolla, California were joined in marriage by the Rev. Dr. G. W. Bruce, pastor of the Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon Sept. 18th. The ceremony took place in the Methodist parsonage before Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worthington as witnesses. This young couple will spend a few days in Ashland, and will make their home at La Jolla, California.

GIFTS CONTINUE TO ASHLAND USO

Many people are grand to think of USO as they would a personal friend, as the following instances will show.

Mr. Steven Boyer brought a box of men's magazines to the building that he had gone out of his way to get from lumber men, who wanted the soldiers to have their magazines as soon as they were through reading them.

Mr. C. A. Pitts was thoughtful too, when he brought two boxes of delicious pears to the USO for soldiers. These pears were ripe, ready to eat and went like "hot cakes."

Surprising, but true, the soldiers ask who brings this and who brings that to the USO. It shows they are interested in knowing, who it is, that is thinking of them. They feel these people that bring fruit, cookies, and food, are their friends and they want to know their names. So Mr. Pitts' name was repeated over and over again as many different soldiers enjoyed his pears.

Mrs. Marcella Rawe brought some plums one day and a very home-sick soldier that was missing his state of North Carolina, had to admit that Oregon had something that North Carolina didn't have, and that was those wonderful plums.

Gifts like these are, indeed, good morale builders. Soldier after soldier tell how friendly and generous the people in Ashland are.

KOTSCHWAR—THRASHER

Sgt. Orville Thrasher, Jr. and Miss Gladys L. Kotschwar, both of Frontier County, Nebraska, were united in marriage by the Rev. Dr. G. W. Bruce in a quiet ceremony in the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon Sept. 19th. There were present only the two witnesses, Sgt. and Mrs. Richard Porter from Camp White. The young couple will make their home in Ashland for the present.

USO LIBRARY NEEDS

Mrs. Florence Farlow, Librarian at USO Clubhouse, is very much pleased over the fact that people are bringing in their new magazines as soon as they are through reading them, so the boys can keep up with the current news and recent stories.

However, she does see the need for library recreation games, and as Jig saw puzzles, checkers, chess and other table games, and if anyone has any, not in use, they would be most acceptable at the USO.

'MY SON HAS GONE AWAY'

by
C. B. Hamlet

I watched him grow, this son of mine,
From baby boy to man,
His milk-white skin burn raw and red,
Then turn to deep, dark tan.
I taught him how to play, to work,
To make of life a game.
We were so happy, he and I,
Until the great war came.

The call to arms was clear and loud;
He did not hesitate.

His simple words ring in my ears,
"I'll fight for home and State."
And I am left alone, but proud;
My son has gone away,
And he, dear God, is in Your care.
Please bring him back some day.
