A MILLION DOLLARS A DAY FOR HITLER

Fire losses in the United States averaged more than $1,000,000 a day for the first six months of this year, according to preliminary reports.

Fires are like strikes. Most of them are preventable and are therefore inexcusable. A fire in a key plant means production interruptions all along the line. Managements and employees should do everything in their power to erase fire hazards.

A single pile of waste that would have taken but a moment to remove may, tomorrow, wipe out a million dollar armament concern. The man who failed to remove the danger will suddenly realize that his claims to patriotic citizenship ring a little hollow. Somewhere, thanks to his negligence, a man in uniform will suffer for the lack of a needed bit of equipment.

Every community has its fire prevention authorities. They work night and day to curb loss of life and property from this menace. Far too often their task is made unduly difficult through want of public cooperation. They repeatedly seek to drive home the truth that fire prevention, to be really effective, must begin with the individual. It is time that we as individuals realized that.

Send a shell across the pond, when you buy a sure-profit War Bond!

AVOID DOMESTIC WOES

Long hours over the tub — a cross and tired wife on Monday night — a husband irritated at a sketchy makeshift dinner. Nobody knows what may happen!

Avoid this — and many other dangers — by sending your clothes to the laundry. They return as sweet and clean as a summer sky, and you have not had one minute of trouble.
