Here Friday Eve A late announcement last week gave the news to Ashland that the candidate for vice president on the Republican ticket, John W. Bricker would stop briefly in Ashland at 6:45 Friday evening. He appeared on schedule, and was introduced by U. S. Senator Guy Cordon and spoke for a few minutes to several hundred Ash-land people who had appeared at the Southern Pacific depot to hear him. Following the talk, and that of Mrs. Bricker the two mingled with the crowd. Th his short talk, Governor Bricker pointed out that the issue of this campaign was whether or not more power should be vested in the federal governorment and centralized in Washington. The Whole world looks to this court-try for help, Governor Bricker said, and "if we are to help them we must maintain the pattern of the envy of the world" The speaker charged that the New deal has stealfastly departed from this path. He stressed that "it is time for a change in Wash-ington," and urged the election of Governor Dewey as president, and asking that Oregon give him support by electing Congressment Elsworth, Cordon and Morse. Mayor T. S. Wiley presented the vice presidential candidate with a box of Ashland's famous peaches, and Mrs. R. I. Filaharty presented Mrs. Bricker with a bouque.
