

The Low Down From Hickory Grove . . .

This Mr. Truman is most likely gonna prove that Missouri is not a for more things than just mules. Nobody yet, who knows the gent, has said anything except he is a regular guy. But he has a job on his hands. But when and if he gets through scrapin' barnacles off the bottom of the boat, there is liable to be some squawks, then. Nobody ever had a bigger crop of same to contend with—nobody before, ever had a bigger chance to show his mettle. Being a "show-me" Missourite, he should go to town. And without getting too far off the subject, anybody wondering why there are so many mules in Missouri should be told. I tell 'em. In the early days, in a contest between Missouri and North Dakota, the winner was to have the choice as between accepting the "mules" or the "swedes". Missouri won. It chose mules. That is the story, but I don't believe it. I have lived amongst the Flickertails of Fargo, No. Dakota. They are a skookum outfit. And their alcohol punch, pardner, it will kick farther than any Missouri mule.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Mrs. Rena McNair, who has been visiting in Missouri the past several weeks, returned to her home here the past week end. Mrs. James McNair and small son returned with her. She will be joined by Sgt. James McNair in a few weeks.
