A Trip Thru Jacksonville Museum Interest Tourists

by Gladys Hamilton

The Jacksonville Museum located in the Old Historical hotel was erected by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Holte in the year of 1888 and is on East California St. The hours are from 10 a.m. till 5 p.m. each day of the week and the caretakers are Mr. and Mrs. William Forrester who have been there for past two months. After opening it on the 15th of April and in this time they have had over two thousand visitors from all parts of the States, from Canada and from Alaska. Mrs. Forrester reports her work of meeting the strangers and listening to their comments and telling them of the treasures in the building is interesting. For the music lovers all want to know if the old organ will play, when told that it is in working order they set down to play and enjoy the soft tones of the music box. As you look at the different things you wonder at the history that has taken place within a few short years, the advance in the fire fighting equipment and helmets worn by the firemen of years gone by is in great contrast to what is used now, the giant tusks, teeth and vertebrae of prehistoric animals, the dainty handwork, each item in the place has its own merits and is well worth the time that is spent in the room which no doubt has seen many a gay time, as meals were served to the miners and cow punchers as well as the traders and freighters and stagecoach passengers. The pictures of the owners of the hotel is in the museum and they were a handsome couple, the price list of groceries at that time are here so that we know that our food of today is not too expensive. The boom days had its inflation prices which we hope won't be so high again.

Stuchell's Saloon Furnishes Setting

July 13 will be a big barbecue day in Portland for three plane-loads of Hollywood celebrities who will feast on John Day beef in a setting patterned after Stuchell's saloon, an old Jacksonville landmark.

The event is part of the publicity planned for the World premiere of "Canyon Passage" the Earnest Haycox story which was filmed in Oregon with a Jacksonville background. Much of the action in the story takes place in the old saloon.

Jacksonville Ramblings

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Hamaker from the community.

The community is saddened by the loss of two old friends this week. Mr. Edens was a very quiet man, so is the rest of the family, but they have a lot of friends here. John Norris, who had been an ardent member of the IOOF lodge No. 10 since 1902, and who had held offices in the Subordinate, Encampment, and who was a past captain of the Canton will be missed by his brother members.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles, are the proud parents of a baby boy who was born June 22. He weighed six pounds.

Again the fact is brought home that the younger children need a play ground. The swimming pools are too far away from most youngsters, Mr. Wendt had tried unsuccessfully to keep the children away from the ponds of water that form in the old gold dredging area. The gold dredging people had promised to fill all dirt back in after the dredging was completed but this was never done. Edward Robinson, was very lucky that T/Sgt. Phillips was near.

John R. Norris Buried On Monday

Funeral services for John R. Norris, well known resident of Jacksonville who passed away at his home Thursday, June 20, were held at the Conger-Morris chapel 10:00 A. M. Monday, June 24, with the Reverend Harry Hansen officiating.

Mr. Norris was born February 16, 1877 at Wautauga County, North Carolina. He came to Oregon in 1904 where he has since been connected with the fruit and logging industry. He was foreman for several orchards and grew a crop of Winter Nellis pears on the Midvale orchard on the Jacksonville highway that won the gold medal at the San Francisco Exposition in 1915.

He has been a member of Jacksonville IOOF lodge No. 10 for forty years and held many offices of distinction in all branches of the order.

Mr. Norris is survived by his widow, Mamie F. Norris of Jacksonville, two sons, Aubrey and Carl Norris of Medford, and two brothers, Jonathan of North Carolina and Milton of Dillard, Oregon.

Honorary pall bearers were from Siskiyou lodge No. 16 and active pall bearers were from the Jacksonville IOOF lodge No. 10.

Active pallbearers included George Brownlee, Albert Heckert, Gus Sanger, Clarence Buck, Hollis arks, and Chet Purcell.

Noble Grand Andy DeGraff, and Chaplain Dave Dorn had charge of services at the graveside. Many beautiful flowers were mute offerings of the friendship of the people who knew him.

Hymns which were rendered at the services were his favorites, "Rock of Ages" and "My Face Looks Up".

Seattle Boy Saved From Drowning Fri.

Edward Robinson of Seattle who is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bowman of Jacksonville, nearly drowned Friday afternoon in an old dredge pond on the DeArmond Lumber company mill property near Jacksonville.

Robinson was in company with nine other boys and while swimming was either stricken with cramps or stepped into a deep hole. He went down and became lodged in mud at the bottom.

T/Sgt. John M. Phillips, army recruiter, who was fishing nearby was attracted to the scene by the commotion plunger in and brought the boy to shore. Phillips applied artificial respiration for twenty minutes before the Conger-Morris ambulance and pulmotor arrived.

Robinson was taken to the Sacred Heart hospital where he was released the next morning.
