Temperature Change Hazard
The so-called heat-resistant glass, oven ware, is not proof against thermal breakage if the change from hot to cold or vice-versa is very sudden. Avoid putting a very cold vessel into very hot water, and place pie-plates fresh from the oven out of a draft.

Huge Liner
The Queen Elizabeth is 1,031 feet long—standing on end he'd tower over every building in the world except New York's Empire State building—on which her bow would reach the 86th floor. Her gross weight is 83,673 tons.

Better Custard
If eggs are beaten slightly with a fork, the custard will have a smooth top. Overbeating eggs into a foamy froth only makes a coarse textured custard. Corn syrup helps to make smooth, delicate custards.

Rats Carry Disease
Veterinarians say that rats carry such diseases as white scours of calves, mastitis, ringworm, tuberculosis, contagious abortion, coccidiosis and infections of chickens and trichinosis of hogs.

Avoid Fire Hazards
Before winter sets in, all closets, attics and storerooms should be cleared of rubbish, old magazines and the like. This will avoid fire hazards.

Show Wall Sculptures
Excavations at the site of the ancient city of Sargon II, king of Assyria, 722-705 B. C., show wall sculptures with elaborately designed oriental rugs.

Wash Silk Lamp Shades
That fancy silk lamp shade can be washed successfully, home economists stress. Remove all decorations, then dip it lightly several times in warm suds. One of the tricks is to dry the shade quickly, either outdoors on a warm, windy day, or inside under the breeze of an electric fan.

Variety of Holly
In parts of England, the prickly variety of holly is known as he-holly, and the smooth variety as she-holly, or boy and girl holly. It was a belief in Derbyshire that the kind of holly brought into the house at Christmas time would determine who would be master for the next year. If the holly were smooth, the wife would dominate the household, but if the holly were prickly the husband would be master.

Washing Coffee Maker
Your coffee maker, no matter what type you use, should be washed with hot suds after each use and rinsed thoroughly. This treatment will avoid a stale flavor in coffee.

Raising House Flowers
To have lovely house flowers, they should be planted in dishes of moist pebbles and placed for two weeks in a dark closet. As roots develop, they can be brought into the light, and placed in a cool sunny window.

Rosy Superstition
In some parts of Germany, France and Italy it is believed that a drop of one's blood if buried under a rose tree will insure rosy cheeks.

Condensed Milk
The first condensed milk plant opened by Gail Borden was at Wolcottville, Conn., in 1856, followed by a plant in New York state in 1860 and one at Elgin, Ill., in 1865.

Caution in Bathroom
Although the bathroom is not the room of the most accidents, a great many injuries occur there due to slipping in the bath tub, and shock from electrical appliances.

Tokens of Hospitality
Among the Hindus, distinguished strangers are welcomed with garlands of flowers as tokens of hospitality.

Newcastle Disease
Newcastle disease of chickens is named after Newcastle, England, where one of the first reports on it was made in 27.

Flowers Always Attractive
For thousands of years, the people of the world have believed that certain flowers possessed definite virtues in addition to their beauty and fragrance. Medicinal values of flowers came first in the minds of ancient peoples. And, although many flowers actually did have value as medicines, others were attributed with healing virtues which they have never possessed. Some flowers were, according to these credulous folks, imbued with the power to frighten away evil spirits and to do all manner of amazing things.

Colonial Dairying
It was the common opinion in the Virginia colony that housing and milking cows in the winter would kill them.

Introduced Cranberry
Indian medicine men introduced the cranberry to the early settlers in America.

Frozen Cauliflower
The shorter the time between harvesting and freezing, the better the frozen cauliflower is going to be.
