Old Time German Band Is Organized

Five high school musicians have brought fun and entertainment to several community groups and have created a small musical organization of their own, based on the old time German five piece brass band.

Bob Frink, Curtis Vail, Harry Kannasto, Bill Montgomery, and Edith Turnbull first appeared at a high school pep assembly last fall and made such a hit that the group decided to continue with the musical farce.

Since that time they have appeared at the PTA, the Rotary, the Lions, and have played over KWIN.

Their costumes are partially authentic, including two German field coats which were given to the organization by a veteran of World War II. Other portions of the costumes include portions of outmoded Ashland high school band uniforms.

Frink plays the bass in the group; Vail, trombone; Kannasto, trumpet; Montgomery and Miss Turnbull, clarinets.

Home Extension Club Has Tuesday Meeting

"The Care of the Hair" was the subject which the Ashland Home extension club studied at the December meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. M. Frazier, 107 Fork street.

Nineteen members listened to Mrs. Buma Nicks and Gertrude Wilmett who explained and demonstrated various methods and stylings for modern hair care.

The group was served a planned three course luncheon which was served from tables decorated in the Christmas motif. Mrs. Seamen, Mrs. A. A. Madden, and Mrs. Frazier served.

Mrs. Glen Wiltse presided at a short business meeting after the luncheon. Before closing, a white elephant sale was conducted.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Seamen, 275 Scenic drive, January 14. Topic will be "Developing Charm of Manner. Miss Marian Farrell will lead.

PTA Gets School Crossing Signs

Last weeks PTA meeting was held in the gymnasium with Mrs. Elizabeth Heckert presiding. Mrs. Bernston and Mrs. Lewis, members of the committee appointed in November to see about the two school crossing signs reported that the signs had been painted and put in place.

The ladies related their experiences about getting the signs, how they had first asked the city council, but were referred to the county who in turn referred them to someone else. All in all they finally got around to where they had to call on the state and the ladies mentioned that they were happy to thank the state highway department for the prompt way in which they handled the request.

The signs were painted on the highway Wednesday afternoon. Mr. G. B. Goddard announced that new lunchroom equipment had been ordered for the school and Mrs. Smith announced that the new steam table was in operation and that the new counter board would be installed by the steam table.

Three thousand lunches have been served and the total number of free lunches is over two hundred.

The topic for this meeting was "Lets Have Music". Chairman was Mrs. Catherine Wendt. She was assisted by the Junior class mothers. Study class subject was the "United States Constitution". Mrs. Daisy Lewis recited the preamble to the constitution.

The band under the direction of Mr. Whipple presented several numbers including a march medley of Christmas songs, "White Christmas", and "The Three Bears". A flute solo and a clarinet solo were also presented.

Combined Groups to Present Concert

Combined musical groups of the Junior high school and the Senior High school will present the annual Christmas concert December 17 at the Junior high school gymnasium at 8:00 p.m.

The program will include several numbers by the high school chorus including Schubert's "Ave Maria." The junior high chorus will be heard in "The Sleigh" and "Carol of the Shepherds" and the combined choirs will sing "Carol of the Bells" by Teontovich. The several vocal ensembles will be heard including "O Holy Night" sung by the girls sextet and "The Drum" a musical setting of Eugene Field's famous poem, sung by the boys quartet. The combined junior and senior high bands will play a Christmas selection. There will also be numbers by instrumental ensembles and group singing will complete the program.

O. C. Bjarlie, vocal instructor in the Ashland schools, will make his musical debut in Ashland, Tuesday evening, December 17, at the Junior high school auditorium.

Bjarlie will direct several vocal groups in the "Evening of Christmas Music", which has been held in the Ashland schools for many years. The high school band, under the direction of Ervin Lesser, will accompany the vocal group.

Bjarlie studied under Dr. F. M. Christensen at St. Olaf college in Northfield, Minnesota from 1933 to 1937. He was assistant director of the band and orchestra and the A Capella choir, in Faribault, Minnesota. Since his graduation he has been in charge of various music programs and came to Ashland from Kalispell, Montana. Mrs. Bjarlie is an accomplished musician and plays the cello.
