Potatoes Brought Irish The so-called "Irish" potato isn't Irish at all. The white potato arrived in the Emerald Isle from South America by way of Europe and England late in the 15th century. The rich, peaty soil of Erin was so hospitable that the potato soon became its staple food—with disastrous results—for, when the potato crops failed two or three years in a row, millions of Irishmen starved. This is said to have caused the first great mass migration from Ireland to America.

Families on Increase The number of families in the United States increased by 175 per cent between 1890 and 1940, while the population as a whole gained only 110 per cent. Families with not more than three members increased from 52 per cent of the total number in 1930 to nearly 58 per cent in 1940. While the proportion of four-person families held steady, families with five or more persons fell from 31 per cent of the total in 1930 to 25 per cent in 1940.

Fish With Armor Plates The armored catfish does not have ordinary scales, but rather overlapping armor plates. The fish, good scavengers, lay eggs in bubble-nests in plants at the surface of water.

First Foreign Diplomat Silas Deane, Wethersfield, Conn., sent to France in 1776, was the first diplomatic representative sent abroad by the United States.

World's Oldest Man If the Heidelberg man, oldest human being known to have existed, were alive today he would be more than 650,000 years old.

School Age Accidents In the school age group, 5 to 14 years, 320 children were killed last year and 16,500 injured in bicycle, automobile mishaps.

Cost of Television More than a million dollars has been spent on television research. The original patents have expired and no profit has yet been made.
