maybe this art SHOULD die

For years experts have been saying that totem pole making is a lost art and the Canadian Government has put an embargo upon the export of these Indian relics. But out around Hazelton in Northern British Columbia, some new totems are going up, like this one. A definitely modern touch is the brassiere. The lady doesn't look any happier than the low man used to. From the position of the hands and the expression on her face, it would seem that she just ate something she shouldn't have.

drama for the elementary teacher.

Floyd T. Thomas of the state department of education will conduct a workshop course in speech correction. Pupils who have speech difficulties will be studied and given assistance.

Two elementary school instructors, Henrietta Maskeal and Marjorie W. Priger, have taught at previous summer sessions here. Dr. McAulay said. Miss Maskeal is a SOC graduate and has been teaching at Southgate, Calif., elementary school. Miss Priger is supervisor of home instruction in the state department of education.

Mrs. Lillian Pattison, Ashland, will conduct a workshop on camp and club leadership.
She has been an executive in the Campfire Girl organization and is currently assisting her husband, who is general secretary of the Ashland YMCA. Douglas Russell of the University of Florida will offer a course in costuming, working closely with the Shakespearean festival, and Mrs. Evelyn Barker, currently teaching at the Ashland Play school, will present workshops in writing methods and reading.

A supplementary activity connected with summer school work will be presentation of the second annual northwest regional elementary school principals' work conference at the University of Oregon, Dr. McAulay said. Students attending the Eugene session will be granted credit at the Ashland institution.
One of the conference instructors will be Eugene Bowman, associate professor of mathematics at SOC.

ANNA H. CLARK

Anna H. Clark, 78, a resident of Talent for 55 years, passed away late Tuesday morning at a local rest home where she had been ailing for a month.

Mrs. Clark was born on Sept.
15, 1873, in Oxford, Co., Ontario, Canada. Her husband, Benjamin B. Clark, passed away in White Owl, S.D., on Sept. 11, 1950. She was a member of the Talent Methodist Church.

She is survived by a sister, Matty Boosey of Jacksonville, and a brother, John Boosey, of Cranbrook, British Columbia.

Services will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Talent Methodist Church with Rev. Alice Wooley of Talent officiating, and Litwiler Funeral home in charge. Interment will be in Stearns Cemetery beside her husband.

spending from someone else's pocketbook? And if we could do it under the guise of benefitting our luckless contributors, what better setup could we possibly want, especially if the contributors were so wrapped up in their own affairs that they paid little attention to what we were actually doing with their money?

The fact of the matter is that executive agencies are under constant pressure to spend, both from within and from without; and, as we've tried to point out, the more they spend the more they are rewarded. It is a vicious circle which will not be broken until greater pressure to save is applied. But where does the pressure to come from? From the Congress? We've already found out that that isn't the answer. Why not do a little pressuring ourselves both indirectly through our representatives in Congress and directly upon the spenders?

But even we cannot do it effectively with scatter-gun tactics any more than we can shoot ducks by aiming in the general direction of the flock and pulling the trigger. We should pick our targets and to do that we'll have to be able to distinguish between wise spending and that which is wasteful or, at least, questionable. That, in turn, may require a more detailed knowledge of our government than some of us possess. But it isn't difficult for us to acquire the knowledge that we would need.
As stated in an earlier article, it is all set down in black and white in official publications of the government itself. Much of the factual material in these articles came from such publications and the writer's set will be deposited in the Ashland public library for the use of anyone who wants to examine them.

They include one copy each of the Budget Message for 1953; the U. S. Government Organizational Manual for 1951-52; and the latest Official Register of the U.S.

The job of finding out how our tax money is being spent is admittedly tedious; but the stakes are high. It is a job that could best be done by service clubs, taxpayers organizations, and the like. But it is everybody's business and anyone can take a hand in it.

It may consume a little of the time we would otherwise devote to recreation or to our businesses. But instead of wondering whether we can afford to give it the time it would take hadn't we better be wondering whether we can afford not to?

Attention Ladies!

Cakes lined up—each with a number. Judges looking, breaking off pieces, tasting. The winner?
Number 4—a cake with a wonderful, glossy chocolate frosting.

This was at the Women's Club last night. Then Duke Thomas stepped up—his cake was Number 4! Seems his misus was laid up, so Duke took over—and won!

Here's Duke's prize-winning frosting recipe:

Melt 3 squares unsweetened chocolate in double boiler. Remove from heat, add 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioner's sugar and 2 1/2 tbls. hot water and blend. Add 1 egg yolk, one at a time, beating well after each. Add (the better, beating thoroughly after each tbls. Pills and frosts 2-bch, 2-layer cake.

From where I sit, we all have different abilities and tastes... and these differences are sometimes surprising. Duke bakes prize-winning cakes. My wife, for example, can beat most any man at checkers. Same when it comes to beverages—you may like coffee or tea while I prefer a refreshing glass of beer. But let's not have any "half-baked" ideas that people are all the same—or should be.

How to make good telephone service even better...

it's easy to be a good telephone neighbor, too

If yours is a party-line, it's easy to be a neighborly telephone user. Just keep these simple points in mind when you make telephone calls: When you have a series of calls to make, allow a few minutes between them • Make sure the line is clear before you call • Replace the receiver properly in its cradle after calling. These suggestions will mean still better party-line service for you, too. For if you make them a habit, you'll find that they give people a better chance to call you.

emergency calls may arise while you are using your party-line. If a telephone neighbor breaks in and explains the emergency, it's always thoughtful to hang up and complete your call later.
