SERVING THE COMMUNITY. A farewell event for community leader Claire Oliveros, who first started working at Portland Community College (PCC) in 1997, is scheduled for Tuesday, June 18 at 2:00pm on the PCC Cascade Campus. In August, Oliveros will become the new executive dean of student development and learning resources at Chemeketa Community College.

struck when the first wave of the Great Famine hit — a long, terrible ordeal that killed millions, including his father, and sent others, like his mother and only sister, on desperate escape routes into China. Alone on the streets, Kim learned to beg and steal. Finally, in desperation, he too crossed a frozen river to escape to China. There a kindly Christian woman took him in, kept him hidden from the authorities, and gave him hope. Soon, he was spirited to the American consulate and became one of just a handful of North Koreans brought to the U.S. as refugees. For info, call (503) 228-4651 or visit <www.powells.com>.

Ai Weiwei: Never Sorry

July 12, 4:30pm, Portland Art Museum, Northwest Film Center, Whitsell Auditorium (1219 SW Park Ave, Portland). Watch Ai Weiwei: Never Sorry, a film about the internationally renowned Chinese artist and activist who is an outspoken critic of his country. Ai Weiwei’s views and his organization of people through art and social media blur the line between art and politics. In response to his activism, Chinese authorities shut down his blog, bulldozed his newly built studio, beat him up, and held him in secret detention. The screening is held in conjunction with “Circle of Animals/Zodiac Heads: Gold,” an exhibit of a dozen gold-gilt bronze sculptures by Ai Weiwei currently on display at the Portland Art Museum. (USA, 2012, Alison Klayman, 91 mins.) For info, call (503) 221-1156 or visit <www.nwfilm.org>.
