Robots aid tourists, clean floors at South Korean airport

AUTOMATED AIRPORT. Troika, a self-driving robot made by LG Electronics, moves around for visitors at Incheon International Airport in Incheon, South Korea. Troika will rove the airport telling travellers how long it takes to get to boarding gates and escorting them to their flights. A jumbo cleaning robot will help cleaning staff swab the wide expanses of floors in the airport west of Seoul. See story on page 2. (AP Photo/Ahn Young-joon)
