Through Oct 25 (Mon-Fri), 10am-5pm; Oct 18, 5-7pm (reception); Portland State University (PSU) Autzen Gallery, Neuberger Hall, Second Floor (724 SW Harrison St, Portland). View art created by recipients of the Arlene Schnitzer Visual Art Prize, including Master of Fine Arts candidate in Art + Social Practice Xi Jie Ng (Salty), whose works explore the inherent possibilities in the poetic, eccentric, and infinite everyday. Also on view are works by Shawn Creeden and Jake Manning. For info, call (503) 725-3515, e-mail <art@pdx.edu>, or visit <www.pdx.edu/art-design>.

Hannah and the Dread Gazebo

Through Oct 28, Oregon Shakespeare Festival, Thomas Theatre (15 South Pioneer St, Ashland, Ore.). Watch Jiehae Park's Hannah and the Dread Gazebo, a play exploring what it means to walk the line between two cultures by embracing the hilarious, the heartbreaking, the scientific, and the mythic. For info, showtimes, or to buy tickets, call 1-800-219-8161 or visit <www.osfashland.org>.

Earl Hamilton

Through Oct 28 (Tue-Sat), 11am-5pm, Attic Gallery (421 NE Cedar St, Camas, Wash.). View new abstract paintings by artist Earl Hamilton. The bold and colorful works feature intriguing textures with paint and collage as well as whimsical pieces highlighting cats and Chagall-like images. Caught

Through Oct 29, Artists Repertory Theatre, Morrison Stage (1515 SW Morrison St, Portland). Enjoy Caught, an installation of visual art and live theatre featuring Lin Bo, a dissident visual, performance, and conceptual artist whose piece, "Shiwei" ("Rally"), led to his arrest and two-year detention by the Chinese government. The event includes his current work as well as a new theatrical piece that explores the American obsession with story and narrative as markers for "authenticity." Static elements of Bo's work are also on view in the Morrison Lobby from noon to 6:00pm, Tuesday through Sunday. For info, performance times, or to buy tickets, call (503) 241-1278 or visit <www.artistsrep.org>.

"Kingdom of Girls"

Through Oct 29 (Tue-Sun), noon-5pm, Blue Sky Gallery (122 NW Eighth Ave, Portland). View "Kingdom of Girls," an exhibit about indigenous Khasi people in the Indian village of Mawlynnong. The photos were taken by photographer Karolin Klüppel between 2013 and 2015. Klüppel was intrigued by the matrilineal traditions of the people, which included the passing down of land to the youngest daughters in each family. For info, call (503) 225-0210 or visit <www.blueskygallery.org>.
