A Poultry Paper Free.

The BULLER'S has made arrangements whereby we can send "The Western Poultry News" one year free to any person paying one year's subscription in advance. Old subscribers who pay up and pay one year in advance can take advantage of this offer also. The Western Poultry News is a big 16-page monthly chicken paper, published at Lincoln, Neb., and is an acknowledged authority on poultry methods. It not only interests fancy breeders, but the housewife in town or country, who wants to make some profit from a few hens. It also has a Belgian hare department. If you want a poultry paper, here is your chance.

Sound, sweet sleep, so necessary to the active business man, is the reward of having his property insured in a company like the Phoenix Assurance Company, of London, or the Queen, of America. "As sound as a golden guinea." Miss Anna Olesby, resident agent.

Oregon at the Pan-American.

The following resolution was adopted by the National Editorial delegates at a regular meeting, Jan. 25, 1901:

"Resolved, that we, as Oregon's National Delegates to the N. E. A., which convenes in Buffalo, June 10-13, during the Pan-American Exposition of 1901, do hereby pledge ourselves, individually and severally, to do all in our power toward having said N. E. A. meet in Portland, Oregon, during the Exposition of 1905, which is to be held to commemorate the Lewis and Clark expedition; and we also pledge our hearty support to the commission appointed by our State Executive to represent Oregon at the Pan-American Exposition and request that every member of our State Association aid in seeing that our State and its resources be properly advertised and displayed at Buffalo during the entire Exposition."

W. G. STEELE, Chairman.
G. L. PEASLEE, Secretary.

Serious Accident.

R. H. Bishop, of Springfield, a member of the crew that has been repairing the bridge over the Willamette between here and Harrisburg, met with a very serious accident Monday morning about 9 o'clock. He was setting a pile to be driven, when a loose 6x8 guard rail accidentally slipped from above, striking him on the head, cutting a gash about 6 inches long. He was brought to town and medical aid summoned. He was taken to a hospital in Portland on the 2:35 local. It is not thought the injury will prove fatal.

inhabitants, and is surrounded by as fertile farming land as there is in the Valley. This is the home of the hop, which proved so profitable to the growers the past season. Harrisburg has a flour mill, bank, several general merchandise stores, a good hotel, several churches and a first-class graded school. The Willamette River is navigable from Harrisburg to Portland.

In the south part of Linn and Benton counties and the north part of Lane county is to be found the best farming land in the Willamette Valley.

[In this write-up and description of this section of the country it has not been our intention to misrepresent or over-estimate anything, and those visiting the Valley will find this a fair but limited representation.—Editor.]

The Angora Goat—A Profitable Industry.

BY PROF. E. B. M'ELROY.

During the past ten years a number of our active farmers have been introducing the Angora goat into Lane county, especially in the foot-hill country. These thrifty farmers had but one object in view at the time these goats were purchased, and that was to clear up their farms at small expense. They bought the goat for his work and not for his wool. During the past five years, however, there has been a great revolution in the goat industry. Manufacturers are beginning to discover the many advantages and special qualities of mohair. Numerous desirable and elegant fabrics are now being made from this wool, and it has been found that the goods are exceedingly fine and durable. Another special feature of this goods is, that it is much more free from the attacks of moths than goods made from sheep's wool. For this reason, it is said that the major portion of the valuable upholstery now used in railway cars, is made of goat's wool.

The entire number of Angora goats in Lane county today will probably not exceed 6,000 head. When we come to consider the vast area of good brush country in this county, so well adapted to goat grazing, we can readily see that, instead of the small number now kept, we could keep to advantage hundreds of thousands of goats in Lane county alone and keep them well. We are speaking now more particularly as to the value of their wool and increase and of the profits that are bound to occur by continuous and thrifty care of the domestic goat. As to their adaptability to our climate there is no question, and as to the numerous advantages arising from raising goats, this has been thoroughly and satisfactorily settled long since.

We would earnestly commend this subject to the active and enterprising farmers from the Eastern States, who are now locating and who expect to locate in Lane county, recognizing that this industry may be made one of the most useful and profitable within the entire range of farm and field products.

Just as the north-bound Oregon express was pulling out Tuesday afternoon, a mule belonging to G. W. Wright of Goldson, which had been pastured in the orchard north of town, got out onto the track and stepped into the trestle where the county road crosses the track, and the train had to be brought to a sudden stop to keep from running onto it. In driving the animal off, it fell over the trestle, a distance of about six feet, breaking a leg. The mule was subsequently shot.

The chair-making industry of Oregon is located at Albany, and consists of two factories. The combined output for 1900 was 85 carloads, valued at $70,000. The chairs are made entirely from Oregon hardwoods.

The Southern Pacific has a gang of men at work between town and the bridge enclosing their right-of-way with a new barbed wire fence.

Some Comparisons.

An eastern statistician says: "Oregon alone, if as thickly populated as Germany, would contain 22,000,000 people; as France, 18,000,000; as Denmark, 12,000,000; and as Belgium, 40,000,000. When the state is as well filled up as Illinois it will have 8,000,000 people; as Pennsylvania, 12,000,000; as Massachusetts, 20,000,000. The six New England states, with substantially no mineral except marble and building stone, with not the best agricultural lands, with forests almost swept away and general resources worn by 200 years of cultivation, support nearly 5,000,000 people on about 67,000 square miles of territory. Washington alone has 60,000 square miles, and Oregon 93,000.

The Southern Pacific company purchased 14,000,000 feet of ties for use on its Oregon branches during 1900.
