The payments now are about $50,000 per month. The membership Sept. 1, 1900, was 54,201, and the insurance in force over $113,000,000.
A large party of young folks tendered a surprise party to G. W. Turnbow and son, Squire J. R. Turnbow, of Long Tom district, last Saturday night. We are not sure whether the above-named gentlemen were taken completely by surprise, but of one thing we are certain, and that is, that from the time the party arrived until midnight, when it dispersed, a good time was enjoyed by all. The young folks brought along pies, cakes and lots of good cheer, and the Long Tom people don't do things by halves. About 37 guests were present.

Personal

Roy Morgan, of Eugene, was in town Monday.
G. W. Turnbow, of Long Tom, was in town Monday.

Dr. S. Hamilton, of Roseburg, arrived in the city Sunday on the California express to visit his son-in-law, W. C. Washburne, and grandson Master James. Dr. Hamilton has been to Astoria, Portland and Salem. He said it looked to him like the legislature was not going to elect a senator before the expiration of its term. He is the father of our Circuit Judge, J. W. Hamilton, and is even a finer looking man than his son.
"The Modern Ananias" Saturday, eve, Feb. 16, in the Opera House.
A kick is coming to the BULLETIN in regard to the giving out of the printing for the coming play, "The Modern Ananias." Mr. J. D. Hamlin, a member of the dramatic company, had the matter in charge, and asked the BULLETIN to make a bid for the work, which was done. Later the Times gave in their bid, which was in excess of the BULLETIN's bid, according to Mr. Hamlin's own statement, and yet he awarded the work to the highest bidder. If the printing had been of an individual nature, or if the BULLETIN had not been asked for a bid, nothing would have been thought of the matter. Under the circumstances, Mr. Hamlin's course was manifestly unfair. Inasmuch as Mr. Hamlin is an applicant for the position of Postmaster of Junction City, it is but natural to suppose that his administration of the affairs of that office, if he received the appointment, would be characterized by the same partiality and unfairness that he displayed in awarding the aforesaid printing.
"The Modern Ananias" at the Opera House Saturday night, Feb. 16. Everybody should attend.
Death of an Oregon Pioneer.
Mrs. Mary Crow, aged 90 years, died at her home at Lorane, 12 miles from Cottage Grove, Feb. 6, 1901. With her husband, John Crow, she came to Oregon in 1852. She was born in Kentucky, moved to Missouri, from there to Iowa, thence journeying across the plains to this State. For 48 years she had resided at the scene of her death. Her husband, John Crow, died in 1869.
Mrs. Crow was the mother of Mrs. Col. F. W. Folsom, of this city.

Correspondence

HARRISBURG.
—Gilliam Kitchen and wife, of Irving, were callers here on Monday.
—Miss Edna Mackey went to Roseburg on Wednesday visiting.
—J. R. Cartwright has the cultivation of large hop gardens well under way.
—George McCulloch was a passenger on Wednesday's local en route to Salem.
—C. F. Cunningham was a passenger on Tuesday's overland on his way home.
—Miss Callie Pierce, of Rowland, started on Tuesday for an extended visit in California.
—W. A. Christy, a live farmer, residing east of Halsey, was laying in supplies here last week.
—The town has been made lively during the last week by the presence of unusual numbers of drummers.
—T. J. Rodgers and his estimable wife visited on last Sunday with his father's family, near Liverpool station.
—J. W. Arehart is gaining considerable notoriety with his patent doubletree. It is thought to be a good thing.
—The farmers of this vicinity are busy preparing seed beds for spring crops. The fall sown grain is reported to be in extra good condition.
—Mr. C. E. Maxson, one whose judgment on farming matters is entitled to credit, stated that he is now pasturing his fall sown wheat closely with sheep.
—P. F. Ramey lately returned from a visit to his old home in Wisconsin, and he is now confirmed in preference for Oregon, and especially for Linn county.
—May & Davis have a full force at work in their hop field. It is conceded that if hop cultivation is completed early, the hop matures in better form and earlier.
—D. H. Pierce, of near Rowland, an extensive farmer and stock-raiser, was transacting business here Tuesday. He says grain is O. K., but grass is badly frozen.
—Rev. Zimmerman occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church last Sunday. He is a forcible speaker, and leaves out of his sermons the little quibbles of every-day life; hence his big congregation.
—J. M. Philpot, with direct purpose and push, assisted by the modern methods of his noble wife, has demonstrated that the dairy business can be made a factor in the success of farming.
—Twenty-five ladies of indiscriminate selection met at the home of Mrs. Sarah Williams last week to sew carpet rags. Forty pounds were sewed, a delicious lunch served and all were happy. Gossip was conspicuous by its absence (?).
—There will be a musical concert given at the City Hall on Thursday evening, the 14th inst., under the auspices of the Harrisburg Brass Band. The carrying out of the program will furnish an enjoyable occasion. The boys never do things by the halves.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Campbell, of Long Tom, were visiting Mr. Morrison's folks last week.
—Sam Templeton, Jr., of River View, spent a few days visiting friends in this neighborhood last week.
—Lost—A few days ago, on the road between Junction City and Harrisburg, a dress pattern. Finder please return to John Gosser, of Lancaster.
MONROE.
—Miss Henna left for Corvallis Tuesday on a visit.
—Mr. Louding, of Portland, was in town Monday looking for a location for a blacksmith shop.
—Dr. E. Bennett was in Monroe Monday. He reports that the sick around Dusty are improving.
—While Will Carpenter and Bob Yates were out hunting Saturday, Mr. Yates fired at some birds, a shot striking a limb and glancing, hitting Mr. Carpenter in the eye. Fortunately the sight was not destroyed.
—William Jackson Kelly died at his home in Monroe, Oregon, Feb. 9, 1901. He was born in Owen county, Indiana, Sept. 16, 1818 and moved to St. Joseph, Mo., in 1861, where he resided until 1853. He came to Oregon in 1853, settling in Benton county, Oregon. "Uncle" Billy Kelly was an honored citizen, a faithful friend and a conscientious neighbor. May the influence of his life be felt by the people of Monroe for years to come.
