SOMETHING NEW.

Just published by the Southern Pacific Co. is a pamphlet upon the resources of Western Oregon, which includes an excellent map of the state, and contains information on climate, lands, education, etc., existing industries and their capabilities.
Attention is also directed to such new fields for energy or capital as promise fair return.
This publication fills a need long experienced by Oregonians, in replying to inquiries of Eastern friends.
Copies may be had of local agent S. P. Co., or from

3 Daily Trains Between Ogden and Denver 3

The increase in transcontinental travel by way of Salt Lake City in consequence of the scenic and other attractions of the route, has recently justified the Rio Grand Western Railway—in connection with the Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado Midland Railroads—says the Salt Lake Tribune, in establishing a triple daily fast passenger service between Ogden and Denver. All of these trains are equipped with the latest appliances, improvements and cars. This road now operates through sleepers between Chicago, Ogden and San Francisco, also a perfect dining car service. Send 2c postage for literature, rates or other information to J. D. Mansfield, 253 Washington St., Portland, or Geo. W. Helntz, General Passenger Agent, Salt Lake City.

RAILROADING PATENTS.

A single firm of Patent Lawyers, C. A. Snow & Co., of Washington, D. C., have in the last year procured 1,639 patents for their clients, many of them for rejected inventions. C. A. Snow & Co. have been accused of railroading patents through the Patent Office, but they insist that this locomotion is better than carting them for by the latter process the inventor often dies before he gets his patent.

Weekly Oregonian and BULLETIN only $2 a year.

The Farmers & Breeders' Mutual Live Stock Insurance Association of Kansas City, Kan., has been declared insolvent and ordered to "put up the shutters."

In the past twenty-five years that Milo Munger, of Harvard, Illinois, has been running a creamery, he has paid out $5,200,000,000 to the farmers, and built twelve creameries.—Hoard's Dairyman.

The way to insure the passage of the Grout Bill is to write both your United States Senators that you are interested in its passage and ask them to work and vote for it. And this is the only way it can be accomplished. The bill has passed the House by a large majority, but its enemies are putting forth their utmost strength to defeat it in the Senate. They will accomplish their desire unless you make your influence felt by writing at once to your Senators. Write as soon as you have finished reading this.

C. H. Markham, General Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific's lines in Oregon, is not only the head of an important department of a great railroad, but he is a representative citizen—one who takes a deep interest and an active part in the up-building of the industries and institutions of the State. At one time you find him assisting in the establishing of some new industry, and next addressing the students of our universities. He is a power in the development of Oregon, educational and industrial.

The Only American Girl to Marry a King.

But one American girl has ever married a King, and she, a New England woman, now a widow, is living in a royal palace in the country of her adoption, almost lost sight of by her American sisters and friends. The romance of this fascinating, gifted American girl, who won the hand and heart of a King—one of the prattiest of love stories—will be one of the features of the March Ladies' Home Journal.

The constant advertiser has this advantage over the occasional one: He has not dropped the thread of his discourse, and does not have to pick it up. The occasional advertiser must employ printer's ink lavishly just to re-establish himself on the footing that he occupied before he withdrew from the field; he must regain the ground that he has lost before he can continue. Here that trite but wonderfully expressive proverb suggests itself: "Constant dropping wears the stone." Unremitting advertising, advertising pursued methodically day by day, week by week, month by month, is in the end less expensive than by advertising occasionally, in fits and starts, "by seasons." Narrow-minded and uninformed persons declare advertising the year round to be "money wasted," those who can judge know that it is a golden investment.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing Consumption, Hemorrhages, Pneumonia, Severe Coughs, Croup, or any disease of the Throat or Lungs, its success is simply wonderful as your druggist will tell you. SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

Notable among the pleasures afforded by the Shasta Route is the winter trip to Southern California and Arizona. Renewed acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added sources of enjoyment, under its sunny skies, in the variety of its industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountain, shore, valley and plain.

The two daily Shasta trains from Portland to California have been recently equipped with the most approved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, but the low rates of fare will still continue in effect.

Illustrated guides to the winter resorts of California and Arizona may be had on application to
