There Are 2400

Disorders incident to the human frame, of which a majority are caused or promoted by impure blood.

The remedy is simple.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla.

That this medicine radically and effectively purifies the blood is known to every druggist, known to hundreds of thousands of people who themselves or by their friends have experienced its curative powers.

The worst cases of scrofula, the most agonizing sufferings from salt rheum and other virulent blood diseases, are conquered by it, while those cured of boils, pimples, dyspeptic and bilious symptoms and that tired feeling are numbered by millions.

Scrofula

THE OFFSPRING OF HEREDITARY BLOOD TAINT.

Scrofula is but a modified form of Blood Poison and Consumption. The parent who is tainted by either will see in the child the same disease manifesting itself in the form of swollen glands of the neck and throat, catarrh, weak eyes, offensive sores and abscesses and oftentimes white swelling—sure signs of Scrofula. There may be no external signs for a long time, for the disease develops slowly in some cases, but the poison is in the blood and will break out at the first favorable opportunity. S. S. S. cures this wasting, destructive disease by first purifying and building up the blood and stimulating and invigorating the whole system.

J. M. Seals, 115 Public Square, Nashville, Tenn., says: "Ten years ago my daughter fell and cut her forehead. From this wound the glands on the side of her face became swollen and bursted. Some of the best doctors here and elsewhere attended her without any benefit. We decided to try S. S. S., and a few bottles cured her entirely."

SSS makes new and pure blood to nourish and strengthen the body, and is a positive and safe cure for Scrofula. It overcomes all forms of blood poison, whether inherited or acquired, and no remedy so thoroughly and effectively cleanses the blood. If you have any blood trouble, or your child has inherited some blood taint, take S. S. S. and get the blood in good condition and prevent the disease doing further damage.

KING OF ITALY.

He Is Possessed of Great Will Power and Many Accomplishments.

From one who was intimately connected with him in his youth I learn that his chief characteristic is earnestness, added to great will power. Whatever he does, no matter how trivial, is attacked (I use the word advisedly) with such force and such determination that it is invariably carried to a successful issue. For instance, all the world knows of his collection of coins, but few have heard of its origin. One day when a small boy he was playing in the garden of the Quirinal, and found a Pius IX. penny, with which he rushed delighted to Queen Margherita. She explained what it was, and incidentally told him about others more important. From that moment he began to collect, and he has now become one of the greatest numismatists in the world. It is the same with swimming. He learned quickly, and reached such perfection that it was his custom to jump from a man-of-war into the open sea, have his swim, and return without help.

Other accomplishments are music and painting. Queen Margherita, who is exceptionally fond of music, seeing her husband so indifferent to it, decided that her son must play at least the piano, if he had any talent at all. Masters were procured when he was a small boy, with the result that he is a very fair pianist, and satisfies even the critical taste of his mother. Of painting he knows less, but can dash off a very respectable sketch, showing verve, but a lack of knowledge of color.

But, above all and before all, the king is a man of will, and, try as he may, no one can turn him once his mind is made up.—Rome Correspondence Pall Mall Gazette.

THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

Succeeds King Edward as Grand Master of the Freemasons.

King Edward VII. has ceased to be Grand Master of the Order of Freemasons, which office he held as the Prince of Wales. This is in conformity with the course adopted by the last Prince of Wales on his becoming Regent and afterwards George IV. An especial Grand Lodge has elected the

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

Duke of Connaught as his Majesty's successor.

It is interesting to note that only three predecessors have stood between the late Grand Master and the last Prince of Wales who filled that office, namely, Lord Ripon, who held the position from 1870 to 1874; the Earl of Zetland, who occupied it from 1844 to 1870; and the Duke of Sussex, 1813 to 1843, who succeeded the Prince Regent.

His Prophecy Came True.

Edward Wigglesworth, "Hollis professor of divinity at Cambridge," in a little pamphlet published in the portentous year of 1775, must have had a correct idea of the prosperity of this country during the century just closing, as he predicted that the population of the "British American colonies" in 1900 would be 80,000,000.

Included in this estimate was Nova Scotia, now the Dominion of Canada, which with its last recorded census result of 4,800,000 added to the 76,000,000 of the United States fulfills almost to the letter the accuracy of the Wigglesworth prophecy. And this somewhat remarkable forecast was not based upon any species of guess work, but upon a well defined and clearly constructed mathematical theory, which, reduced to plain words, can be best described in the language of its author:

"The British-Americans have doubled their numbers in every period of twenty-five years from their first plantation."

Taking this statistical fact as a basis for his calculations the Harvard divinity professor constructed a system of reckoning the increase of a country's population which history has shown to be as correct as his method was simple.

Assuming that the 1775 population was 2,500,000 Mr. Wigglesworth estimated 5,000,000 for 1800, 10,000,000 for 1825, 20,000,000 for 1850, 40,000,000 for 1875 and 80,000,000 for 1900, and the record of the United States census since its initial taking in 1790 shows substantially these figures, as follows: Census of 1800, 5,308,000; 1825 (1820), 9,633,000; 1850, 23,191,000; 1875 (1870), 38,658,000; 1900, with Canada, 81,000,000.—National Magazine.

HEALD'S BUSINESS COLLEGE.

A Prosperous and Popular San Francisco Institution.

Among the institutions identified with the growth and development of San Francisco, Heald's Business College holds a conspicuous place. Both as a business enterprise and an educational institution, it has been ever since its organization, nearly forty years ago, extremely popular and eminently successful. It is in the class of those solid and substantial institutions in which a city takes pride. Citizens point to it as one of the old reliable and thoroughly progressive establishments, an institution with a definite purpose and an unquestioned status.

In connection with commercial education the name of Heald's is a household word on the Pacific Coast and throughout the country at large. In its own field of effort it is as widely known as Stanford or Berkeley, for it enrolls students from the four quarters of the globe. In 1899 every county in California but four had students in Heald's Business College. The four not represented were Del Norte, Lassen, Orange and Ventura. The register of the college shows that in 1900 students were enrolled from the following States and Territories outside of California; in many cases there were several representatives from each: Nevada, Iowa, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Arizona, Kansas, Missouri, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Vermont, Virginia and New Mexico. In 1900 students came directly to the school from Mexico, Canada, Japan, the Hawaiian Islands, Yukon Territory, Siberia and Central America. Enrollments were also made from England and Sweden.

Its large body of alumni constitute a most formidable promoting force, and the steady growth of the college can be attributed largely to the commanding voice of these thousands of graduates, who know whereof they speak.

For full information write to the college for the 80-page catalogue and college journals.

WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Regard Peruna as Their Shield Against Coughs, Colds, Grip and Catarrhal Diseases.

Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood Late Candidate for the Presidency.

Mrs. Belva A Lockwood, late candidate for the Presidency.

Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, the eminent barrister, of Washington, D. C., is the only woman who has ever been a candidate for the presidency of the United States. She is the best known woman in America. As the pioneer of her sex in the legal profession she has gathered fame and fortune. In a letter to the Peruna Medicine Company she says:

"I have used your Peruna both for myself and my mother, Mrs. Hannah J. Bennett, now in her 88th year, and I find it an invaluable remedy for cold, catarrh, hay fever and kindred diseases; also a good tonic for feeble and old people, or those run down, and with nerves unstrung."

Yours truly,

Belva A. Lockwood.

Peruna cures catarrh by removing the cause, inflamed mucous membranes.

Dr. Hartman, the compounder of Peruna, once said, in a lecture to women: "A great number of women consult me every year. I often have occasion to say to these patients: 'I fear you have catarrh, madam.' They will generally reply, 'Oh, no, I never had catarrh. My nose is perfectly clear, and my breath is not bad. I am not troubled with coughing or spitting, or any other disagreeable symptom of catarrh.' 'But, my dear madam, you may have catarrh all the same. Catarrh is not always located in the head. You may have catarrh of the lungs, or stomach, or liver, or kidneys and especially you may have catarrh of the pelvic organs."

Mrs. T. J. Ballard, Eureka Springs, Ark., cured of a severe case of catarrh by Peruna.

The doctor went on to say: "I have been preaching this doctrine for the last forty years, but there are a vast multitude of women who have never heard it yet. Catarrh may attack any organ of the body. Women are especially liable to catarrh of the pelvic organs. There are one hundred cases of catarrh of the pelvic organs to one of catarrh of the head. Most people think, because they have not catarrh of the head, they have not catarrh at all. This is a great mistake, and is the cause of many cases of sickness and death."

Mrs. T. Pelton, 562 St. Anthony avenue, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "Peruna has done wonders for me. It has cured my headache and palpitation of the heart; has built up my whole system. I cheerfully recommend Peruna to all sufferers afflicted with catarrh. My mother is never without Peruna. When one is tired and generally out of sorts, if Peruna is taken it immediately removes that tired feeling."

Mrs. T. Pelton.
