DENY WAR REPORT

Government Will Not Materially Strengthen Pacific Fleet.

No BATTLESHIPS ARE COMING

By E. H. F. of the Associated Press

Washington, July 4—The government will not materially strengthen the American Pacific fleet by any addition to its battle-ships. It will maintain the present number of these great warships. The Pacific fleet has been increased to 13 battleships, the same number as the United States battleships in Europe. The government is not planning to build any new battleships. It is considered that the present fleet is adequate for the protection of the country's interests in the Pacific.
