UNIVERSITY EFFICIENCY TO UNDERGO SCRUTINY

Two Separate Surveys to Look Into Separate Surveys to Look Into the Institution's Work During This Fall and Winter.

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 5.—When the University of Oregon opens in the fall there is going to be a general weighing of and passing of judgment upon its finances, methods and results. S. P. Capen, the government's specialist in higher education, as official representative of the United States Bureau of Education, will be brought to the campus, probably early in October, and will remain until he is sure that he understands every phase of the University's activities. Then he will make a report, going into great detail and giving praise and blame where it is due.

President Campbell declares that the University is now entitled to a complete show-down, with all cards face up on the table. Those phases of University activities deserving criticism in the mind of the examiner will get it, and those entitled to praise will get that. And the University itself wants the credit, the president says, for what its officers believe is the excellent work it has been performing. Then, too, if there are any weak places, the administration wants them pointed out.

The president laid this matter before the Board of Regents, wrote to Washington, and now the survey has been arranged. Mr. Capen is a man of great experience in this work. He has spent the spring helping adjust the budgets of the Iowa state institutions and conducting a survey of the North Carolina institutions. The federal survey will put the most emphasis on educational results. It will treat of this institution alone, and has not been asked to look into any others in this state. The University faces another survey next winter, however, in company with all other Oregon state institutions. This one was ordered by the last session of the legislature for the guidance of the next session, and will be conducted by a joint committee of two houses. Its emphasis will probably be financial rather than educational, according to President Campbell.

"We welcome this survey fully as much as the one by the Bureau of Education," declares the president. "If there is one thing on which we can rest secure, it is the need for the amounts appropriated and the careful way the money is handled, every bill paid the minute it is due, every record perfect, every cent vouched for. On the one hand, there is nothing about the University anywhere to conceal, and on the other hand, frequent surveys which cover all phases of University activity and finances cannot fail to be of benefit. They tend to keep the public fully informed and to bring to the University all the advantages which accrue from fair and intelligent criticism and full publicity."

THE TREE TRIMMER KNOWS WHERE TO LOOK FOR TOBACCO (SATISFACTION)

MAN you are not alone in your desire for a clean, small chew that will give you real tobacco satisfaction. That's why men are glad to get the Real Tobacco Chew. Then when they've got it, the natural thing to do is to tell a friend—so he can get the Real Tobacco Chew.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough—cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW IS NOW CUT TWO WAYS!!
W-B CUT IS LONG SHRED, RIGHT-CUT IS SHORT SHRED

Take less than one-quarter the old size chew. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just take a nibble of it until you find the strength chew that suits you, then see how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end. The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up. An excess of licorice and sweetening makes you spit too much.

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste.
