"MY COUSIN TIM" IS LAUGHABLE

All Numbers on Last Literary Program Please; Negatives Win Debate.

"My Cousin Tim" seemed to be the star feature of the last literary program of the year held Friday night in the High school. A bunch of boarding school misses thought to put one over on their instructor, Miss Alderney (Edna Platt), and in turn had one put over on them by the real "Cousin Tim." The play got by well, but some of the players might have put more time on their lines.

Those taking the parts were: Stella, Mae McPherson; Bonnie, Eunice Parker; Milly, Flora Lindley; Mollie, Myrtle Lindley; Miss Alderney, Edna Platt; Maggie, Lila Miller; Jonas, Dil-lajon Penny; Fudge, Ellen Lambert; and Neta, France Travis.

The debate, Resolved, that there is more pleasure in pursuit than in possession, brought an unanimous decision for the negatives. The negative team was Roy Penny and Lynn Grandy, the affirmative, Lillian Milligan and Dorothy Miller.

The violin solo by Lena Richardson was much enjoyed, as was the piano trio by the Misses Sikes, Scot and Parker. "For a That" by Roy Penny was well given.

An original number was the patriotic stunt. The following took part: France—Jean Fischer; England—Herbert Moore; Germany—Royal Doane; Russia—Bill Hill; Ireland—Lillian Milligan; Austria—Dale Lorah; Scotland—Ana Gorrie and Columbia—Edythe Holcomb.
