CHILDREN'S STORIES.

SIXTH A CLASS TRIP TO EUROPE

The sixth A class and our geography teacher, Mrs. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Burk are going to take a trip to London. So we got our clothes packed ready to take the Southern Pacific train to Portland. We stay long enough there to exchange trains and then go on our way. We soon arrive in Seattle. Mr. Burke takes the boys to a hotel, but we girls wanted to camp out in the camping grounds of Seattle so we parted for the night. We had a very good time but we could not get the tent up although we were not hurt in the least we made a camp fire and had our supper. In the morning we met the boys at a certain place and took a stroll over the city. By that time we had to leave for Bellingham to see the largest fish cannery in the world.

Visit in Duluth
We next went back to Seattle and took the Great Northern to Duluth. Duluth has good water power and also they make ships there, hundreds of ships sail from Duluth and other cities every year.

Visit in Chicago
We now take the train for Chicago. Here we will go to a hotel. The name of it is La Grande. It was very beautiful. About midnight we were awakened by a fire bell, we rushed to the window to see which building was on fire. We were terrified to see it was our hotel. We quickly rushed down the fire escape. While we were going down it Edwena fell to the ground and broke her arm. We rushed to the doctor to have it put in place. In the confusion we lost Doris and Lyle and we could not find them. At last we gave it up that they had been kidnapped. A little while after that we received a letter saying we could have the children if we would pay a large sum of money. But to our horror the man that had written it had not signed his name and he lived in New York. We quickly got our things packed again and started for Buffalo on the Lake Shore train. We thought we would see Buffalo on our way through.

The day after our arrival Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Richardson took we girls to Niagara falls and Mr. Burke took the boys on a fishing trip in Canada we could not get interested in the falls as we were so worried about Doris and Lyle. So we went back and took the train for New York.

As we passed by a little cottage, we saw two children looking mournfully out of the window.

We at once recognized them as Doris and Lyle. We went and got a police and went to the house and got them first we had to buy them new clothes. We were glad to see them again. The next day we took the boat steamer called Olympic and went to Liverpool, and then to London.
