On Wednesday afternoon Miss Echo class of the high school on column writing. Several members of the press club were also present. Miss Zahl stated that it was not the clever happy-go-lucky fellow who wrote column stuff ,as one might imagine, but phrasic, hard thinking men. "The main essential," said Miss Zahl, "is to have your work in every day and to have it funny no matter whether you feel like writing or not." Miss Zahl mentioned several of the foremost olumn writers in the United States, and their methods of writing. "Column writing," said Miss Zahl, "plays a more important part in the life and interest of a newspaper, than most people would think."
