

THE CLEAR PINK AND WHITE OF A

Perfect Complexion

GOES HAND IN HAND WITH GOOD HEALTH

A good complexion must come from within. If your skin is sallow and you have pimples or other skin eruptions, all of the cold cream, lotions and other preparations for external use cannot possibly help. You must first correct the condition of your blood. The bad blood may be caused by indigestion, constipation, liver and kidney troubles or other ailments.

You should find out from your physician just what the trouble is. He will probably recommend the use of some good tonic or blood purifier which may be found in our stock. Our line is complete.

Mohawk to Get New Bridge.

The location of the new wagon bridge to be constructed across the Mohawk river at the Stafford place, will be a short distance below the site of the old bridge, according to a decision made by county court members who looked over the ground the first of the week. H. W. Libby, county engineer, will at once begin work on the plans and bids will soon be asked for. It is expected that the bridge will be completed early in the summer. The old bridge was badly damaged a short time ago when the roof caved in beneath its heavy weight of snow. The court had decided some time previously to build a new structure this year, and the damage to the old one hastened action.

Brotherhood to Meet.

There will be a meeting of the Brotherhood at the M. E. church Monday evening, March 19. Lecture by Dr. J. H. Gilbert of the University of Oregon, subject to be announced later. A GREAT SOCIAL PROBLEM.

To Get Men Rightly to Adjust Themselves to All Other Men.

Our great social problem is how to make the man at the bottom loom so large and seem so important that all other men will cease to think of him as a thing and treat him as a person. The real social problem out of which other minor problems grow and of which they are really only aggravated symptoms is the world old problem of the right relation between persons.

This is a fundamental issue and to solve it would solve all these minor manifestations. The friendly relation of men is therefore not alone the gist of the race problem, but it is the gist of all social problems.

The age long struggle has been how to get men rightly to adjust themselves to all other men.

Right adjustment to other men would mean in the economic realm that no capitalist would want to beat down below a living wage the laborer who made production possible. It would mean that no laborer would want more wages and shorter hours than the condition of production would stand.

Right adjustment between men would mean that no landlord would be willing to live off of rents of houses which made health and happiness impossible to the occupants. It would mean in return that no tenant would demand more than that for which he gave a just return, and he would protect the interest of his landlord as he would protect his own interest.

Right adjustment would mean in all walks of life the rule of right, not the rule of might.—Southern Workman.

BIRDLAND DANCE HALLS.

Playhouses and Gardens of the Australian Bower Birds.

There are several species of bower birds, chief among them the Satin and the New Guinea. The latter bower bird is the best known. When the bower was first discovered it was supposed that they were playhouses built by the native children, but as a matter of fact they are the dance halls of birdland.

The nests are built in the trees and have no connection with the playhouses. The male birds build these latter and gather every bright and shining object they can find to adorn the entrance to the bower. When it is completed, according to one who has watched them, little "at homes" are given daily, at which the males meet and pay their court to their ladyloves, now bowing and scraping, now playing hide and seek through the bower and now doing an absurdly dignified dance for their edification.

Newton's bower bird decorates its bower with fresh flowers every day, and if a visiting male bird wants to fight all he has to do is to disturb one of these flowers. The master of the bower proceeds with the painful duty of teaching him how to behave in company, while the remainder of the party raise a great racket, but never interfere. A naturalist studying them disarranged one of their flowers, but each time he did it the bower master rearranged it with great care.—National Geographic Magazine.

Impeachment Cases.

Although one president of the United States (Johnson), one cabinet officer (Belknap), six United States judges and eight governors of states have been impeached since the foundation of the republic, only one senator, William Blount of Tennessee, has been arraigned before the bar of the house of congress to which he was elected. Of the eight governors impeached one was acquitted, in three cases the charges were dropped, one was permitted to resign, and three were removed. Three of the impeached judges were removed, and three were acquitted. Both President Johnson and Secretary Belknap were acquitted. Politically the last named impeachment cases were the most important the United States has experienced.—Argonaut.

Leftover Sandwiches.

Sometimes after a party there are sandwiches left over. Here is an excellent way of using them up: Make a batter exactly like you use for pancakes and add to it either sugar or salt, according to whether the sandwiches are sweet or savory. Then each sandwich is dipped in the batter and fried till a golden brown in fat from which a faint bluish smoke is rising. No matter how dry they are they are delicious done in this way.

Telltale Tommy.

Tommy—Do you go to bed very early, Mrs. Peck?
Mrs. Peck—Yes, Tommy; sometimes when I feel tired.
"You wouldn't go so early if you were married to my father, would you?"
"Oh, Tommy, you funny boy! Why not?"
"Cause my father told mother that if he were your husband he'd make you sit up!"—Exchange.

Guard Your Habits.

We are creatures of habit. We succeed or fail as we acquire good habits or bad ones, and we acquire good habits as easily as bad ones. That is a fact. Most people don't believe this. Only those who find it out succeed in life.—Herbert Spencer.

Sound Advice.

"Is there no way of stopping these cyclones?" asked a man of the traveler who was recounting his experiences in far countries.

"No," replied the narrator. "The best way is to go right along with 'em."—Exchange.

Whenever you can look at yourself and be satisfied you should begin to suspect yourself of moral blindness.

W. M. MORRIS WINS CASE

Is Awarded $860.65 for Care of Belgian Horse Co's Animal.

W. M. Morris asked for the sum of $1142.65 from John Seavey and others comprising the Belgian Horse company. A circuit court jury awarded him $860.65 Monday afternoon. The jury retired at 10:45 a. m. and returned a verdict at 2:00 p. m.

A special verdict found that the plaintiff had no share or interest in the Belgian Horse company.

On Tuesday the court signed an order giving the defendants 30 days in which to move for a new trial.
