Hundreds Joined When Break With Germany Came.

RECRUIT TO FULL STRENGTH.

Mrs. Low Works Energetically to Get Organizations to Take Up Training Instituted For Women by Navy League—English Girls Render Assistance in War.

New York.—Hundreds of girls and young women have joined the National Girl Scouts since the outbreak with Germany, and Mrs. Juliette Low, the national president, announced from the headquarters, 627 Fifth avenue, this city, that to meet any emergency the organization will be recruited up to the strength of the Boy Scouts of America. Mrs. Low telegraphed to Elliott Wadsworth, vice chairman of the American Red Cross at Washington, offering the services of the girl scouts. They are to co-operate with the nearest Red Cross branch.

It is Mrs. Low's ambition to make the girl scouts, already 100,000 strong, the greatest girl's organization in the world. Mrs. Low is prominent socially in England and Scotland as well as in this country.

The Girl Scouts of America is the same as the Girl Guides of England and the continent and is adapted to fill the same need in girl life that the boy scout movement fills for lads. Mrs. Low became interested in this work for girls through her observation of the boy scout movement in England by Sir Robert Baden-Powell and the almost simultaneously similar movement for girls started by his sister Miss Agnes Baden-Powell. Sir Robert and his sister visited Mrs. Low upon her estates in Scotland and assisted her in starting the work among the Scottish lassies. They have recently come into the advisory board of the American organization.

Mrs. Low is now working energetically to get the organizations in the various cities to take up the training instituted for women by the Navy League. She has arranged for classes of girl scouts to take these courses and has offered prizes in that connection.

Mrs. Low saw the necessity for this work after watching the assistance rendered their country by the girls of England during the progress of the European war. She says there are innumerable things that girls can do in wartime to help their country if they are properly trained.

Mrs. Low will hold meetings in the cities she visits under the auspices of the women's clubs. All women who are interested in the movement looking to the uplift of American girlhood are invited to attend these meetings. Girls from educational institutions are especially invited, as are also college societies and associations of college women. Mrs. Low, a brilliant speaker, is in demand both in the west and the east to explain the work.

Mrs. Low has great hopes that her visit to America at this time will be the means of arousing considerable interest in the movement among the women of the land. It is the purpose of Mrs. Low to explain the great good to be accomplished among the girls of the land through an organization of this kind and to tell something of the things that have already been accomplished in England and other European countries.

WHAIST LINES TIGHTER.

Men to Wear Longer Coats and Not Padded.

Columbus, O.—Coats will be much longer, shoulders will be wider, with no padding, and coats will be high at the waist line in men's suits this coming season, according to styles set here by the fashions committee of the International Custom Cutters' association.

The cutters say trousers will be wider, waistcoats will be cut low and will be tight at the waist line, and browns will be the proper shade for spring clothes. They also indicated that the Norfolk jacket will again be popular.

Obituary.

David Jacoby, who died at his home near Jasper, Sunday morning was born in the state of Ohio, November 22, 1844, and aged 72 years and four months. While young his parents moved to Indiana where he lived on the home farm until 1869 when he came to Oregon, stopping first with Mr. Cruzan of Cloverdale. Shortly afterward he began working for Cornelius Hills, of Jasper. He married Mr. Hill's daughter, Henrietta, and moved to the place where they resided until his death. Besides his wife he leaves three sons, one daughter, one granddaughter and one grandson, four brothers and four sisters all residing in Missouri with the exception of one sister who lives in Indiana. He also leaves a host of friends who will ever remember him as a loving husband, a very dear thoughtful father, a good neighbor and friend. Early in life he united with the Presbyterian church and remained in that faith until his death. Two little daughters preceded his death, one in infancy and the other at the age of ten years. The funeral services were held Monday morning conducted by the Springfield I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 70 of which he was a member. Burial was made in the Mt. Vernon cemetery.
