

There's a Delicious Freshness to the Flavor of Our Fruit Drinks

The juices of fresh fruits are healthful. The principal ingredient of most juices from ripe fruits is a substance called grape sugar. Grape sugar is the form in which all starchy food is absorbed into the system. The fruit juices at our fountain are made from fresh, ripe fruit. They are sweet and nutritious and require no digestion. Fresh fruits and berries are always served in season. Our soda is clean, cold and sparkling.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally, it acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo O. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

MR. AND MRS. J. W. BAKER LILLIAN BAKER.

BARNES' CIRCUS COMING Half tiger, half Nubrian lion, and nursed by a bear. Such is the strange history of a remarkable hybrid animal preformer with the Al. G. Barnes Big Four Ring Wild Animal Circus which will show in Eugene, May 9.

This strange animal was the offspring of a Nubian Honeys and a Royal Bengal tiger. Apparently fate, not content with this strange parenthood, deprived the cub of its leonine mother while its eyes were yet unopened.

The cub was "hand-fed" by Barnes trainers. Within two days after the beautiful, striped little cub was orphaned one of the bears in the circus lost her cub.

Al. G. Barnes conceived the idea of strapping the cubless bear's four feet and permitting the motherless hybrid to take the place of the little bear cub.

Instead of objecting, the bear seemed rather to like the strange baby given her. After the first meal she adopted the little tiger-lion to her breast and with motherly affection nursed it until it was big enough to eat the food of the other animals.

And that is the remarkable half lion, half tiger which wrestles with its trainer, rides horses and does other remarkable acts in the Barnes circus. The beast has proven unusually intelligent and tractable and to this day its foster mother loves it and knows it from among the other lions and tigers.

This animal will be seen when the circus opens for its engagement in Eugene.

A big mile-long, six-band street parade will take place in the morning at 10:30. Doors open at 1 and 7 p. m. Show in on at 2 and 8 p. m.

TO THE DAIRY COW The dairy cow, long may she wave her fluffy tail her hide to part from goat and fly and such like pest that seem to like to break her rest. It's she that brings the monthly check for cream she offers by the peck; it's she that often saves from wreck the farmer who is wise, by heck! The farmer who's afraid to dig, or who to milk cows is too big, the one who'd rather chew and sit or shoot and spit tobacco spit, the kind whom farming doesn't fit, will keep on going into hell, it's just as safe as spuds to bet while neighbor Jones with 20 cows will chase hard times to the bow-wows. To farm these days of high priced land, you've got to plan to beat the band. To meet the price of high priced tools and self-adjusting milking stools is surely not the job of fools. The farmer who will crop his land each blooming year for all 'twill stand and will not heed the just demand for something in return will stand at last before the judgment bar and wake up with a jolting jar. You feed your horse hay and oats, you even feed your lambs and shoats, and then you wonder why the land should make a fuss and grow a stand that's not enough to feed ten goats. Put back into the gulf, my friends, some of the elements it lends. Remember, 'tis the cow and hog that give your bank account a jog that, fertilize your worn-out soil and help the mortgage man to foll.

ATTENTION The Public is invited to Highlands South of Town next Saturday.

A Symbol of Health

The Pythagorians of Ancient Greece ate simple food, practiced temperance and purity. As a badge they used the five pointed star which they regarded as a symbol of health. A red five pointed star appears on each package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and still fulfills its ancient mission as a symbol of health. If you are troubled with indigestion, biliousness or constipation, get a package of these tablets from your druggist. You will be surprised at the quick relief which they afford. Obtainable everywhere.
