CARNEGIE AVOIDS SKIBO AS A HOME

Feels That War Changes Have Made It Undesirable.

FEEBLE UNDER HIS 82 YEARS

Multimillionaire Has Been a Semi-invalid Since an Attack of Grip, and, Much to His Disappointment, He is Prohibited From Seeing Any One Except a Few Close Friends.

Andrew Carnegie, who before the United States entry into the war was perhaps the world's foremost peace advocate, has been so touched by the changes in Scotland that he has decided to give up Skibo Castle at Dumfermline, Scotland, as a summer home.

It was announced that he nor any member of his family probably would ever again visit Skibo Castle because of changes, physical and sentimental, caused by the war.

Mr. Carnegie is feeble and a semi-invalid, and he has been under the care of two nurses for some time, but this condition, it is said, has resulted from the grip and a threatened pneumonia attack of more than a year ago.

Since his retirement he has been compelled to limit the number of his daily visitors, and he now meets and talks with only a few of his oldest and closest friends. This is not to his liking, but in obedience to his physician, who decided that Mr. Carnegie frequently overtaxed his strength by seeing all callers.

Affected by the War. Identified so long with the international peace movement, Mr. Carnegie is more severely affected by the world war than most men. In talks with his intimate friends he has expressed his disappointment at the way it has spread and continued. One of his confidants said:

"The war came, as we all know, as a shock to Mr. Carnegie. The continuation of it over so many months has been even a harder blow to him and to the cause which he had so close at heart."

Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, head of the Carnegie foundation, said he and his associates frequently consult with Mr. Carnegie, although all of his philanthropic activities had long ago been placed in charge of the various authorized administrative bodies, of which the foundation is the general supervising power.

Shadownbrook, the new summer home of the Carnegies, recently purchased from the estate of Anson Phelps Stokes, is the first country place owned here by Mr. Carnegie. It will be recalled that he formerly spent his vacations at Skibo castle, in Scotland. It is said that no member of the Carnegie family will ever desire to live in the Scotland mansion again, principally because of the changes brought about by the war.

Bell Theatre Gets High-Class Bill

Vaudeville Attraction Will Be Presented With Regular Picture Show Thursday Night

Thursday night, June 28, the Bell Theatre will present a high class bill of vaudeville in addition to the regular picture show. Four first-class performers, enroute to Frisco, will be the attraction. They are as follows:

Lena Toby, the sensation whistler, who starred last Winter tour with the Albany High School Orchestra, and later of the All-Stars, Miss Toby has had numerous offers to appear with various companies and furnish her whistling at fancy salaries. Her latest offer being a Chautauqua engagement, but she prefers to remain with the Orpheus Company, which begins a 50-weeks engagement at San Francisco in August.

M.L.L. Reta Tevis, Danseuse Fantastique, has three distinct solo dances to present, the Spanish, Egyptian, and Butterfly dances. She was formerly with the Modjeska Ballet Classic. Her costumes are of the newest type, and very appropriate to each specialty.

Miss Mabel Anderson, a fine reader and impersonator will entertain in a pleasing manner. She is witty and serious in her work.

Edward Mack, cornet soloist, formerly a soloist on the Redpath Chautauqua in the Eastern states, and member of Bate's Chautauqua Band the same time, has some clever solos which no doubt will interest every band man in Springfield. His tone, phrasing, and execution are of the best, and his solos are from the best composers, including the very latest popular hits.

This is strictly the best vaudeville Springfield will have the opportunity to see for some time, and the management is fortunate in engaging them. The prices of admission for both pictures and vaudeville will be 10 and 15 cents.

Makes Clubbing Arrangement With

The Oregon Farmer

Offers Unusual Opportunity to Its Readers

AMONG our large circle of readers there are a great many who are interested directly or indirectly in fruit growing, dairying and other branches of farming. All of these naturally wish to keep in close touch with agricultural activities throughout the state; and to know about any fight which is being waged for the measures Oregon farmers want and against all sorts of schemes that are detrimental to the people and agricultural interests of this state.

We have, therefore, made a special clubbing arrangement with THE OREGON FARMER whereby any farmer or fruitgrower, who is one of our regular subscribers and who is not now a subscriber to THE OREGON FARMER, will be entitled to receive THE OREGON FARMER in combination with this paper at the same rate as for this paper alone.

This offer applies to all those who renew or extend their subscriptions as well as to all new subscribers. If you are interested directly or indirectly in Oregon agriculture, do not miss this unusual opportunity, but send your order in now.

THE OREGON FARMER is the one farm paper which is devoting itself exclusively to the farming activities and interests of Oregon. It has a big organization gathering the news of importance to farmers, dairymen, fruitgrowers, stockraisers and poultrymen; and it has the backbone to attack wrongful methods and combinations and bad legislation, and support honest leaders and beneficial measures. We are confident that our readers will congratulate us on our being able to make this splendid and attractive clubbing offer.
