FIGURES ON WAR MATERIALS

Uncle Sam's tremendous war business has already begun to move and is the principal reason behind the concerted campaign undertaken by the railroads to induce the shippers not to waste an inch of car space. Estimates by the New York Journal of Commerce indicate that 64,000 freight cars will be needed to haul construction materials to the 16 cantonments which will house the new American army. This does not include cars that will be needed to move troops nor the 3,500 to 5,000 workmen who will be attached to each military city. Then, too, it must be remembered that many of these cantonments will be located where no terminal railroad facilities exist, and these will have to be constructed before work on the cantonments themselves can start.

Figures given out by the War Department indicate the tremendous burden that will be placed upon the railroads.

Concrete work in each cantonment is estimated to require 4700 barrels of cement, 1400 cubic yards of sand, 2500 cubic yards of broken stone or nails 5,600,000 board feet of boards, 7,800,000 board feet of dimension stuff, 177,000 feet of 4x4 inch timber, 2800,000 feet of flooring, 1,200,000 feet of siding and 1,400,000 feet of matched boards. These figures vary in the Northern and Southern states to allow for climate adaptations. The Northern states will require more lumber than given above.

Estimates of the total requirements of electrical equipment for the 16 military sites amounts to 20,800,000 feet of insulated wire, 260,000 feet of lamp cord, 125,000 key sockets, and about the same number of shades; 150 000 cleat receptacles, 22,000 snap switches, 27,800 combined switches and plug fuses; 3,000,000 pounds friction tape, 4,000 pounds of solder; and other items on a similar scale.

In order to extinguish fires in these cantonments about 8,300 fire extinguishers, 5000 water casks, 120,000 water pails and 380,000 feet of hose will be on hand.

The plumbing calls for about 1,600,000 feet of pipe, 40,000 closets and tanks; 30,000 shower bath heads, and tremendous quantities of pipe fittings, sinks boilers, etc.

Bear in mind that while the railroads are hauling all this load for the Government over tracks and into terminals that they have been compelled in many cases to build especially for the purpose, all the factories of the country must be kept supplied with fuel and raw materials, the huge crops must be moved to market, and the greatest industrial traffic the country has ever known kept moving smoothly day and night.

Patriotism of the American people will have to be indicated by making maximum use of freight cars in the future. Perhaps the greatest economic waste of today is in failure to utilize freight car capacity. Figures show that but one-third of car space is used. Improved loading is an obvious necessity if the Government supported properly.
